

COMIC SECTION OF THE BOSTON AMERICAN.
SUNDAY JUNE 17, 1906
COPYRIGHT 1906 BY THE AMERICAN JOURNAL-EXAMINER
GREAT BRITAIN RIGHTS RESERVED

JIMMY—He Runs for Money!

Copyright 1906 by the American Journal-Examiner. All Rights Reserved.

1. OOH PAPA AINT IT GOIN FAST? YES, AND WATCH PAPA MAKE IT GO FASTER!

2. HANK ITS YOUR TURN, TAKE HIM TO THE LOCK-UP! YOU'RE UNDER ARREST FOR FAST SPEEDING!

3. WAAL HERE WE ARE! JUSTICE OF THE PEACE. POST OFFICE

4. THEY WERE GOING 90 MILES AN HOUR! $25.00 FINE! JIMMY RUN DOWN TO MR SMITHS HOUSE AND TELL HIM TO COME UP HERE WITH 25 DOLLARS.

5. HONK HONK

6. KEEP BACK! HERE COMES ANOTHER!

7. VOT? YOU'RE UNDER ARREST FOR FAST SPEEDING! SI, ITS YOUR TURN, TAKE HIM TO THE LOCK-UP!

8. TOOT! STIDY! HERE COMES ANOTHER! THATS THE WAY TO NAB EM! EN SONNY?

9. MON DIEU! EET EES A OUTRAGE! WHO? ME? ITS MY TURN ILL TAKE EM TO THE LOCK-UP! YOU'RE UNDER ARREST FOR SPEEDIN TOO FAST! MOORAY!

10. $25.00 FINE! BUT I HAF NO MONEY! HE WAS GOING 150 MILES AN HOUR!

11. HE WAS GOIN 90 MILES AN HOUR! $25.00 FINE! MA FOI! SACRE BLEU! IM BROKE! DONT WORRY, MY BOY HAS COME AFTER MONEY!

12. ALL RIGHT! SAY JUDGE IF YOU LL TAKE MY WATCH FOR SECURITY ILL GO OUT AND SEE WHATS KEEPING MY BOY.

13. ALL RIGHT. TAKE MINE TOO AND LET DER GENTLEMAN GO. SACRE! TAKE MINE ALSO! HE BRINGS BARB FOR ME!

14. YOU'RE UNDER ARREST FOR FAST SPEEDING!

15. ITS MY TURN ILL TAKE HIM TO THE LOCK-UP!

16. HEY! LEAVE THAT KID ALONE ER ILL LOCK YE UP!

SWINNEY

PAPA IS MAD AT LEANDER!

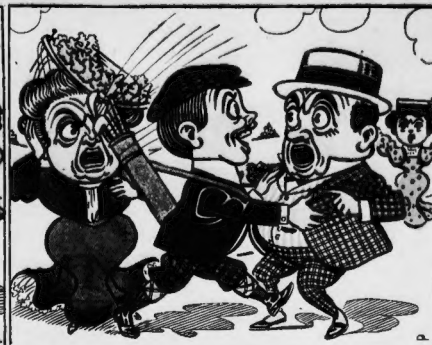

Copyrighted, 1940, by the American Journal-Leander. Great Britain Rights Reserved.

1. LEANDER: "Oh, dearest Lulu, I can stand this no longer. Your father and mother MUST forgive me or I'll go insane."
LULU: "Well, go ask them now, Leander dear. They are in a splendid humor this delightful June day."

2. LEANDER: "Oh, Mr. Peachtree, I am nearly wild. Pray, oh, pray forgive me my past misfortunes."
MOMMER: "Popper, if you'll take my advice you won't."
POPPER: "Well, young man, I know I shouldn't, but this balmy weather softens my heart. I will!"

3. POPPER (continuing): "—give you another chance."
LEANDER: "O joy! O happy day! Thank you, Mr. Peachtree. You have saved my life!"
MOMMER: "O-o-o-hi! Just see what he is doing to me just because I offered my advice!"

4. LEANDER: "What NOW? Oh, Mrs. Peachtree, PLEASE forgive me. It was an accident."
POPPER: "WEOW! W-E-E-E-O-W!"
MOMMER: "Oh, my poor eye! Now you've blinded me! Oh, poor popper! Stop it! Popper!"

5. POPPER: "You assassinator! Try to knock me senseless and then steal Lulu; that was your game, eh?"
MOMMER: "And you tried to blind me so I couldn't see to stop you! BRUTE!"
LEANDER: "Oh, mercy! MERCY!"

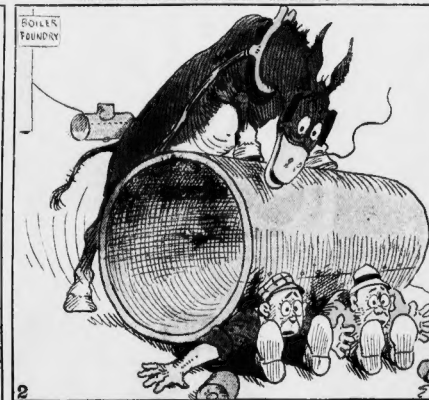

6. LEANDER: "Oh, ye gods! Would that I were a golf ball and that some mountainous giant would swat me out into interminable space, and I should be heard of nevermore! Oh, woe is me! Woe is me! I don't know where I'm going, but I'm on my way."

HEE HAW!

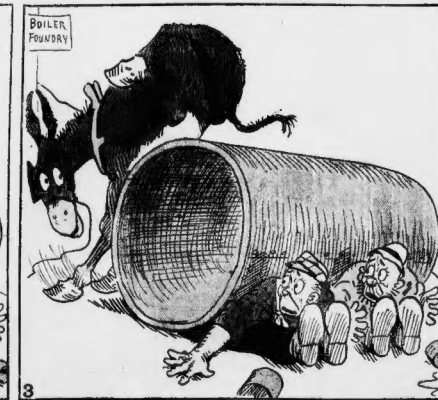

Copyrighted, 1940, by the American Journal-Leander. Great Britain Rights Reserved.

1. BOILER FOUNDRY

2. BOILER FOUNDRY

3. BOILER FOUNDRY

4. BOILER FOUNDRY

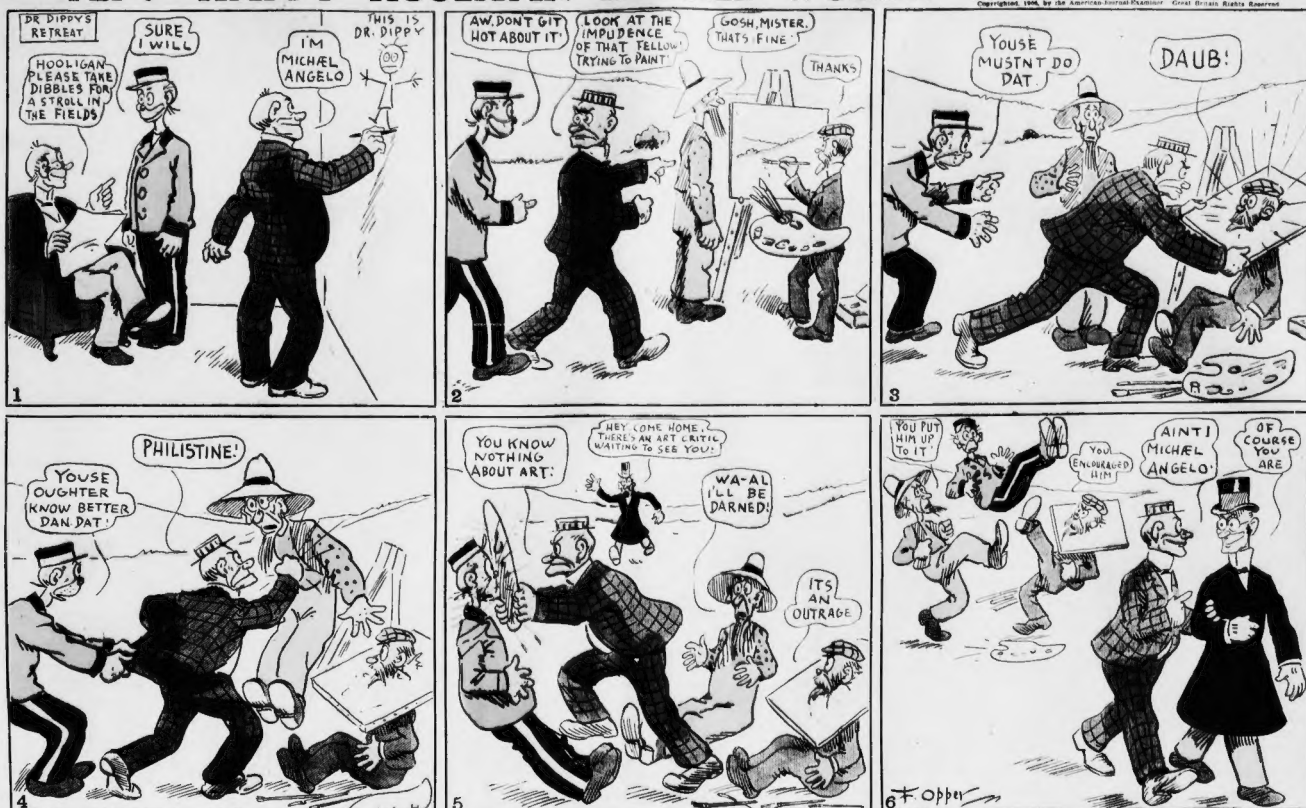

5. BOILER FOUNDRY

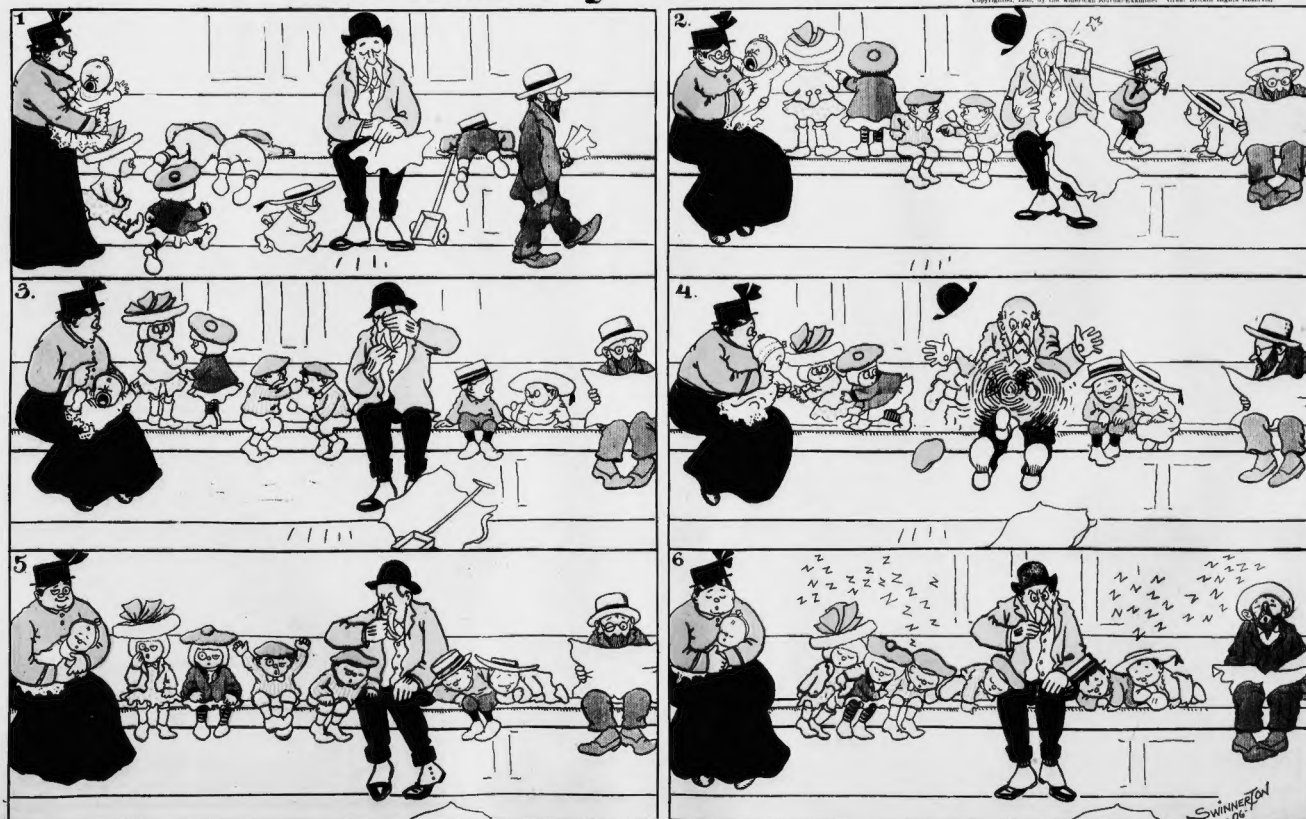

6. BOILER FOUNDRY

YEP! HAPPY HOOLIGAN IS 'STILL WOIKIN' FOR DR. DIPPY!

No Wedding Bells for Him!

HOW WOULD YOU LIKE TO BE THE ICE MAN?

Copyright, 1936, by the American Journal Company. All Rights Reserved.

RESOLVED
THAT WE SHOULD ALWAYS LOOK OUT
FOR THE UNEXPECTED. SOME UNLOOKED
FOR THING IS LIABLE TO BOB UP ANY OLD MINUTE AND HAND US SOMETHING THAT WILL HOLD US FOR A GOOD SPELL. THERE IS VERY LITTLE LUCK IN THIS UNIVERSE.
TOMORROW IS THE RESULT OF WHAT YOU DO TO DAY. NOW ISN'T IT? IF YOU
BURN YOUR HOUSE DOWN TO DAY YOU WONT
HAVE ONE TOMORROW. IF YOU OVER EAT AND DRINK TO DAY, YOU'LL BE SICK. TO-MORROW. IF YOU ARE KIND AND GOOD AND HONEST TO DAY YOU'LL BE HAPPY
TOMORROW. BUSTER

IT WAS MY FAULT
FOR CHASING THE CAT

IF YOU LOOK OUT FOR THE UNEXPECTED, IT WILL NEVER COME

R.F. Outcault

THIEF TOSSED ASTONISHED CHILD IN FRONT OF POLICEMAN'S GALLOPING HORSE; AND THEN—

HOW THE EXPECTED TRAGEDY DIDN'T HAPPEN

WILLIAM MOUNTAIN is a thief. This fact is of little importance to the world except that his wicked nature prompted him to do a thing the other day at Coney Island, New York, which nearly cost the life of a little child and stimulated Mounted Policeman, William Rengleman, to an act of quick-witted heroism which probably no other officer among New York's 2,000 policemen could have performed.

It was Thursday afternoon. Officer Rengleman, sitting loosely in his saddle, was slowly patrolling his post on the Coney Island Concourse. Far up the avenue a little crowd suddenly collected, and out of it dashed a man.

"Probably a sneak thief," thought Rengleman, as he pressed his spurs to his big red horse and headed for the scene of excitement. Seeing the policeman galloping up, the crowd shouted to him:

"Thief! Thief!"

The clattering hoofs of Rengleman's steed sounded in the thief's ears. Turning his head as he ran, and seeing that the rider was a blue-coat in hot pursuit and gaining rapidly, he redoubled his speed while looking for a chance to leave the avenue and take to ground where the horse could not follow.

The only chance was a hundred yards further on, and the policeman was less than half that distance behind him. The thief looked for some obstacle that would delay the officer and enable him to make his goal—a narrow place in the ditch which he could leap and thus reach a vacant lot by climbing a fence. There was a woman wheeling her baby in a carriage but alarmed by the cries of the pursuing crowd she was already turning her carriage toward the other side of the avenue.

"Stop!" yelled Rengleman. "Stop or I'll shoot!"

The breathless thief, with the hoofs of the big horse almost at his heels, was about to give it up when he saw what he was looking for—an opportunity to force the officer to pull up his horse.

It was an infamous, a murderous thought that in the thief's mind. Just ahead of him at the edge of the roadway was a child, not more than three years old, engrossed in the furry blossoms of a "pussy willow" growing beside the ditch.

Seizing the unsuspecting orchin by his loosely fitting jacket, the thief flung him into the road so that he sprawled directly in the path of the galloping steed—and then he spurred for the narrow part of the ditch.

He calculated, of course, that the policeman

(Continued on Page 10.)

MOUNTED POLICEMAN
WILLIAM RENGLEMAN

CHARLES LIVINGSTON BULL.

THE MYSTERY OF THE SIX VACANT CHAIRS

The Maharani, the Gaekwar's Wife, as She Appeared in Her "Garment of Light" at the Law-Vanderbilt Dinner.

OR How the Reggie Vanderbilts Used the Lovely Mrs. Law as a Catspaw to Lure the Gaekwar of Baroda to Dinner and Evened Up the Philadelphians' Mean Snub to New Millions by Inviting Not One Single One.

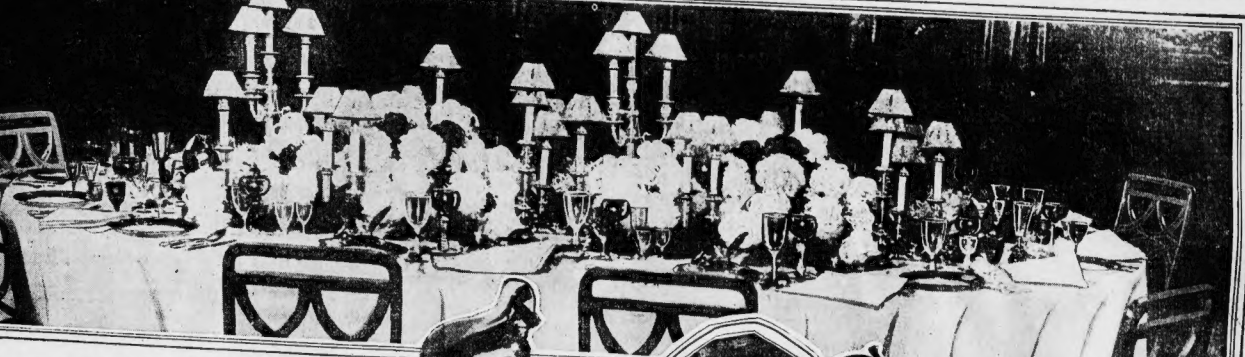

The Gaekwar of Baroda in His Bird of Paradise Helmet and His Pearls and Precious Stones Beyond Price.

It was probably unintentional, but the second wasn't a bit so, this is certain. Host cut up over the Reggies, and when they raised their hands and chuckled, and they were back to New York they gave all the while the Fates that were the so-called single Philadelphia there. This also pattern with an original order for the next that was destined to fall so that let.

"Oh, very well," said Philadelphia note of the Quakers.

It, and the next time the Reggies came over. Came to Philadelphia to see the Thores there was a jolly expensive event in show His Highness the Gaekwar of Baroda, progress, and everybody thought that the with Khadija legends of wealth rolled about Reggie would feel awfully put out about him, come with him his Maharani, whose jewels, story had it, were like the stars in number and the sun in brilliancy and whose

It may be entitled "The Mystery of the Six Vacant Chairs," this story, and subtle. Or it might be called "A Social Vendetta; or, How the Reggie V's Got Even." Or if the reggie men were willing it as a compromise, say, he might use this: "How I Used the Gaekwar of Baroda and His Maharani to Settle the Philadelphia Society's Only Equal to That Between Ancient Athens and Thales—when the Athenians went about calling the Thales 'Oshadad' and the Thales set up to think and eat natty and snappy adjectives to fit the Athenians, and both sides lived only for the pleasure they might get the next day when some of the uncomfortable things they had been planning for each other would probably take."

Now the great Vanderbilt feud is a thing that New York and Philadelphia society has whispered about and gossiped and speculated and fought about for months—all very much sub rosa, be it understood—but the possibility of it working out in such a really brutal fashion never entered the heads of the Philadelphians at least.

Who was there who could have thought that?

How the Feud Had Its Beginning.

When the Gaekwar of Baroda with his $2,000,000 a year income and his torrents of gems and the illustrious Maharani, his wife, with her barrels of gems and the semi-illustrious Prince Sampurnan with his acres of gems came to Philadelphia for the Horse Show.

And when all Philadelphia society was just dying to ascertain them.

And when the Gaekwar and his Maharani and Prince Sampurnan wouldn't accept a single invitation.

And when Mrs. George Law, shapely, petite and altogether adorable New York matron, should by virtue of a real Oriental romance have the honor of entertaining the said illustrious trio at the Bellevue-Stratford at a severely simple dinner at $100 a plate, not including severely simple decorations at a few more thousands.

And when she should order the entire Bellevue to arrange for sixteen places.

That the arrangements should suddenly fall into the hands of the Regie Vanderbilts, and the eighteen should, suddenly diminish to twelve, and—

How a Philadelphia among them,

That's what it is that has brought the thing to a crisis, the absolute certainty that there were sixteen places; that six Philadelphia were to have not the illustrious ones; that up to the last clash of spoons there were actually six vacant places at the table, and that the six didn't materialize, nor get a sniff at the feast, and all through the Reggie Vanderbilts.

That and the fact that nobody knows who the six were in the social arena had the thumb of fate turned down upon them. So consequently every one who might have been the one feels a personal grievance. And multiply six by about a hundred and you have the number of Philadelphians who at present have very mixed and differing feelings about themselves and the Vanderbilts.

But what is the Vanderbilt feud that has led up to this awful revenge and this threat and war between two cities?

It started back in the dim mists of the social past, fully five years ago. It has been growing ever since, like a tar ball in a featherbed. No one outside of the social precincts has ever been allowed more than a guess at it; but it has been very real, just like the green apple beside the small boy, which one can't see, but which one is sure is there—especially the boy.

In this case Philadelphia society is the boy.

The best historians know that there was a little function at Newport given by the Vanderbilts half a decade ago. There were lots of Philadelphians at Newport, but somehow they were overlooked. Not one but basked in the fun.

Then there was a smart function at Philadelphia while the Reggies were there on a visit. The Newport set was on top and none of that function did the Vanderbilts see. The free offense, say the annals, was in the fun.

The Fascinating Mrs. George Law.

Mrs. Reginald Vanderbilt.

The Exquisitely Appointed Dinner Table as It Was Set for the Gaekwar and the Maharani, at Which There Were the Six Mysterious Empty Chairs.

It, but somehow the Reggies landed inside dinner soon was a veritable "garment of all in a bunch and carried off all the second wasn't a bit so, this is certain. Host cut up over the Reggies, and when they raised their hands and chuckled, and they were back to New York they gave all the while the Fates that were the so-called single Philadelphia there. This also pattern with an original order for the next that was destined to fall so that let.

"Oh, very well," said Philadelphia note of the Quakers.

It, and the next time the Reggies came over. Came to Philadelphia to see the Thores there was a jolly expensive event in show His Highness the Gaekwar of Baroda, progress, and everybody thought that the with Khadija legends of wealth rolled about Reggie would feel awfully put out about him, come with him his Maharani, whose jewels, story had it, were like the stars in number and the sun in brilliancy and whose

The Plot Thickens at the Horse Show.

"Ah!" wails Philadelphia society, "who could have thought that the beautiful bird had such a sting, that the butterfly could plot such cruelty?"

Came the Horse Show just past. Came the Reggies and Alfred, the brother, with their string of thoroughbreds and their lust for blue ribbons. Came the opening of the Vanderbilt box at Wisconsin Heights. Came to it throngs of the chosen from New York, from Baltimore, from Boston. Came to it not a single Philadelphia.

Up in the Bellevue-Stratford into the private suite of the Reggie came society from New York, from Baltimore, from etc., etc. Came to it, say the Willing Spencer, not a single Philadelphia. From the suite into not a house of Philadelphia went the Reggies.

Continued on Page 12A.

Her Whip-Welts Smeared With Honey and Left to be Stung to Death by Ants

THE REV. DR. R. H. NASSAU

Another
New and Appalling Chapter of the Horrors in the Congo, Where Leopold of Belgium,
"the King with Ten Million Murders on His Soul," Is Still Butchering and Cutting Off Right Hands in His Insatiate
Lust for Rubber.

The following narrative statement is not couched and signed by a distinguished divine and church missionary for nearly half a century, we might well declare that it was impossible for such diabolical atrocities to happen in this "enlightened age." It is a narrative of the most revolting and heinous crimes ever by one who styles himself His Most Christian Majesty. The Rev. Dr. R. H. Nassau, who has spent forty-five consecutive years among the Africans of the Congo Free State, has just received a letter from a free State King, who calls to all Christendom to put a stop to King Leopold of the Belgians' murders and cruelties worse than death, in his lust for rubber, which supplies him with the enormous revenues he spends on his wars of conquest. Dr. Nassau has written the following narrative, which is so simply appalling in its detailed recital of the crimes committed under the King with 10,000,000 murders on record, that the most ardent missionary grows that they are "exactly, pitifully true."

BY THE REV. DR. R. H. NASSAU,
Missionary to the Congo Free State Since 1861.

[illegible]

One of the King's Cannibals of the Congo

A Cheerful Spectacle Witnessed and Photographed While a Wholesale Torture Was Going On in the Rubber Districts.

"Night approached and still the girl hung to the stake in a frightful condition. Death did not come then to ease her suffering, and so through the night she remained there in a torment words cannot describe.

"But if her sufferings had been greater there were still greater tortures in store for the hapless victim. In the morning the white officer surveyed his work, and finding that the vital spark still flickered faintly, he ordered that honey be brought forth.

"The honey was then smeared all over her wounds and she was left in the fierce glare of the tropical sun.

"Soon the scent of the honey attracted myriads of insects which settled on her in droves.

"Ants swarmed over her; pestiferous insects fought for room on her body while the sun streamed down and the young woman suffered worse than death."

whip the women until the flesh is torn, then honey is rubbed into these fresh cuts and the victims are tied to stakes near beehives and ant-hills, where they are slowly stung to death.

Certain sections of the Congo State have been depopulated fully seventy-five per cent in the last twenty years. In spite of Leopold's efforts to renege the population of the extreme north-western and north-eastern sections of the Congo State in the interior Congo will have disappeared practically in twenty years if civilization, and particularly the Belgian Government, does not stop the barbarities for which white men are directly responsible.

Chlorotung-fishing with rattles the Vietnamese are famous for. The fish are small but these whippings are mild punishment compared with other penalties.

Lopbuds seventeen thousand black oxen were selected because they were the most useful to the common man from the hills, and hate the river terrors. They are set over the river terrors to exact the tribute to ruler.

Chlorotung amount is not delivered and more persons have an arm or ear cut off as a penalty. Frequently several persons are killed, if the alleged offender is not found. In some cases, in some instances where scores have been murdered

There is a ritual condition.

Death does not mean the end of suffering, and so through the night she remained there in a tormented world cannot die.

But if the sufferings had been great those men would rather die than be the hapless victim. In the morning the white oxen surveyed the work, and finding that the work was not done, they were ordered that they be brought forth.

The honey was then measured all over her body. The honey was left in the dense forest of the tropical area.

Now the scent of the honey attracted myriads of insects, which settled on her

The Ghastly Count of 81 Hands Cut Off.
From the Report of the Rev. W. H. Sheppard, in the Arraignment of the King of the Belgians. From the Confessions of a Native Raider.

SENT all the chiefs, sub-chiefs, men and women, to come on a certain day, saying that I was going to finish all the palovar. When they entered these small gates the walls being made of fences brought from other villages, the high native ones, I demanded all my pay or I would kill them; so they refused to pay me, and I demanded the fence to be closed so they couldn't run away; then we killed them here inside the fence. The panels of the fence fell down and some escaped.

"How many did you kill?" I asked.

He said: "I think we have killed between eighty and ninety, and those in the other villages I don't know. I did not go out,

He and I walked out on the plain just beyond the camp. There were three dead bodies with the flesh carved off from the waist down.

"Why are they carved so, only leaving the bones?" I asked.

"My people ate them," he answered promptly. He then explained: "The men who have young children do not eat people, but all the rest eat them." On the left was a big man, and on the back and without a head. (All these corpses were nude.)

"Where is the man's head?" I asked.

"Oh, they made a bowl of the forehead to rub up tobacco and diamba in."

We continued to walk and examine until late in the after-the returning to the camp, we crossed a young woman, shot to the back of the head. She was dead. I asked why, and Maluma N'Gone the captain explained that they always cut off the right hand of the enemy. "Can you not show me some of the hands?" I asked. So he conducted me to a pile of severed hands. I asked how many he had cut off. He said he had cut off thirty. I counted them, eighty-one in all.

The Accounting of Cartridges by Human Hands.

From the Report of an Intimate Diary by Mr. C. M. ...

EACH time the corporal goes out to the front, he takes a cartridge or two with him. He must bring back a bullet if he is not used, and for every one he must bring back a right hand. M. P. told me that he sometimes they shot a cartridge at an animal he wanted; they then cut off a hand from a living man. As to the extent to which this is carried on, he informed me that in six months the State on the Mamongo River had used 10,000 cartridges. It means that 10,000 people have been mutilated. It means more than 5,000, for the people have told me repeatedly that the soldiers of these is the common house fly, which, in spite of its name, loathes this rather alarming little insect. The house fly is a great nuisance, but it is not a dangerous pest. However, the fungus known as Aspergillus fumigatus carries off the flies in the warm end of the season. If this fungus came it would probably do much toward exterminating the flies altogether. The scientists do not think it is a very serious enemy of the fly, but it is a pest of a germ.

Another Mutilated Child, with His Right Hand Hacked Off by the King's Torturers, Photographed in the Congo.

An Actual Photograph Taken at Barings of a Foot and Hand Cut Off from One of the Natives by the King's Jackals.

A medical commission appointed to treat the sick during the war has just issued its report, and its conclusion is that the majority of soldiers during the war were killed by typhoid fever. About 100,000 of the soldiers in the United States died of typhoid fever, typhoid fever. The percentage of typhoid cases was 10%.

Photograph of Foot and Leg of Common House Fly Magnified 3,000 Diameters Showing Hairs in Which It Carries Typhoid Fever and Other Germs.

SUMMER BLOUSE and Separate Waists.
BY MRS. OSBORN, CREATOR OF FASHIONS FOR THE FASHIONABLE WOMEN OF AMERICA.

CHAPTER XIV.

THE AUTOBIOGRAPHY OF BUSTER BROWN

BY R. F. OUTCAULT

I lost mine too. And when I tell you why I'm sure you won't blame either one of us. We saw something we had never seen before in our lives.

A poor little dog with no home and no friends came running down the street almost frightened to death with a can tied to his tail. It wasn't bad enough to treat the poor frightened thing like that, but some nasty boys were chasing him and had set their big burly cur upon him.

Now you know Tige is all there with the blue blood. He is something of a bulldog himself. His color has got a little yellow in it, but his character hasn't. When he caught sight of this crowd coming down the street the hair on the back of his neck commenced to stand up and a savage growl could be very plainly heard. I never had heard him growl like that before, and it sounded like business.

Tige didn't wait for an introduction to that dog, but just presented himself. He caught him on the starboard bow, and over they went. It wasn't much of a job for Tige, because any one who is mean enough to run after a poor little fellow the way that cur had done has a big streak of yellow in him.

You can nearly always count on it that a man or a dog who is just plain mean is not there with the backbone in the last round. The dog made a show to fight for a few seconds, but you remember what Shakespeare says, "Thrice armed is he who has his quarrel just," and Tige had him whipped. The boy that owned the dog was made of the same kind of clay that his dog was, and I bluffed him out.

After it was all over I felt sorry. I was sorry for that boy. Poor little fellow, raised in narrow dirty streets—no nice, sweet, pretty mother to caress him, a face that would handicap him all through his life, and no chance of having any of those refining influences of a nice home. I was sorry after it was over that I didn't give him a dime and a smile instead of the regular thing he had always been used to.

"Tige Didn't Wait for an Introduction to That Dog."

"It Wasn't Much of a Job for Tige."

Well, an old gentleman who had witnessed the whole thing and had scolded the little dog from his can came up and patted Tige on the head and told him he was a good dog. He asked me our names and our address, and in a few days after that a medal arrived for Tige, all done up in a little box suited with a ribbon. On the medal it said "Sper Fidelis." Tige thought it should have said "Sic 'em Semper Fidelis."

(To be continued next Sunday.)

FOXY GRANDPA

The Boys Attempt to Initiate Foxy Grandpa's Boy-Straw Hat, But Find Their Plans Upset!

1. BOYS: "Look, Gran'pa is right under the rain pipe. Let's go up on the roof and pour down some water."

2. BOYS: "This is where we initiate Gran'pa's new straw hat."

3. GRANDPA: "Oh, those boys again. I got out of that just in time."

4. GRANDPA: "Now wonder what these youngsters will think of their new hats."

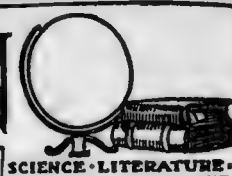

5. BOYS: "Hurry, so that we will be in time to have the laugh on Gran'pa."

6. GRANDPA: "Hello, boys, is that you? Have you come back for your hats?"

EDITORIAL SECTION

BOSTON AMERICAN, SUNDAY, JUNE 17, 1906.

TWO ENEMIES OF US ALL

READERS, this is such a commonplace, obvious sort of an editorial that you will perhaps be impatient in the reading of it. Certainly the great majority of you will look at the picture—which is strong, brilliantly drawn—and at once in your own minds you will formulate the idea for yourselves better than we can do here.

Nevertheless, at the risk of seeming tiresome and fond of platitudes, we propose to discuss the enemies of mankind which this picture represents, and the possibility of conquering them or avoiding them.

Ninety-nine out of every hundred human beings may be called FAILURES.

A man may do fairly good work, he may make a success in comparison with his fellow-man, and yet be a FAILURE.

A man who fails to do THE BEST THAT IS IN HIM is a failure, whatever he may do, no matter how he may impose upon the world with his work.

Millions of young men and women see this editorial page, published in five great American cities.

All of them are interested in their future possibilities, in the problem of VICTORY in this life.

A man going out to fight ought to know first of all what his enemy is like, HOW that enemy will fight him, and how he can be conquered.

The two enemies in this picture are ahead of all of us in life's battle, blocking up the way, destroying hopeful possibilities, sifting out the few that reach the goal from the mass that sink on the road.

Of all the failures you have known, can it not be said that VICE or PROCRASTINATION might account for every one of them?

"VICE" is a name that covers many human weaknesses.

Drunkenness is a vice, one which viciously suppresses DOWNS the very force, THE MENTAL UNREST that ought to BRING SUCCESS. Self-indulgence is another vice. It makes us devote our energies in the present to our various tastes and likes, instead of controlling the present in order to provide for the future.

Vanity and egotism in all their forms are vices. The vain man wastes, in self-annoyal, in the decoration of his person, or in foolish self-confidence, the time, thought or money that ought to be spent on improvement.

Then there are all the other vices—foolish, perverted fools of human energy—that tear men down, and make real growth and accomplishment impossible.

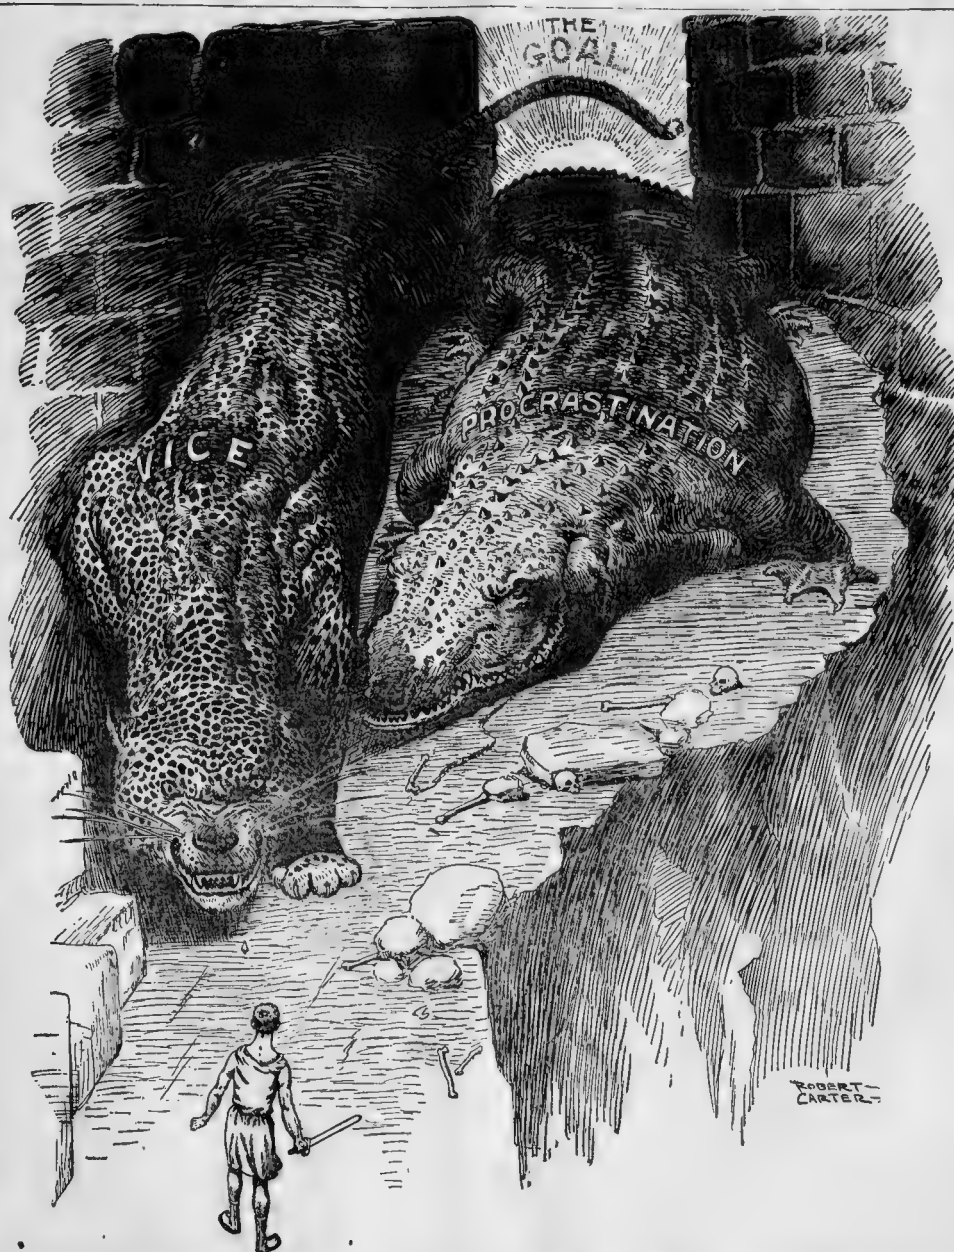

Gambling, drink, love of display, lack of moral purpose, all these vices, positive or negative, meet mankind on the road toward good results—only a few get by.

Lying beside viciousness, typified by a growling leopard in this picture, is the dull, heavy beast, PROCRASTINATION.

This PROCRASTINATION—the tendency to put things off, postpone effort—typifies the curse of laziness or inertia. Many a man able to control the vicious side of his character is destroyed by laziness, by the peculiar lack of effort so hard to overcome in millions of us.

The world is full of men and women who seem intelligent, WHO MIGHT SUCCEED, and yet go plodding along in their little clerkships, or other little routine places, BECAUSE THEY LACK POWER TO FORCE THEMSELVES OUT OF PROCRASTINATION'S RUT. They expect to begin the struggle SOME TIME, but the time never comes.

Which of these two enemies of mankind is responsible for the greater number of failures?

On the Road to Success Almost Every Man Meets These Two Enemies, Conquering VICE and Slothful PROCRASTINATION. Few Succeed in Passing Them

Laziness, lack of will power, is, in our opinion, man's most dangerous enemy.

Vice in a man is often only ENERGY GONE WRONG. If the man can direct into channels of effort power which he has been wasting in various self-indulgences, success will come to him, and the monster of vice will be passed and left behind.

Slothfulness, procrastination, laziness, are harder to get out of the system than vice.

They mean, unfortunately, very often an ABSOLUTE LACK OF ENERGY. And that is a thing that should be borne in mind by all of the good, ordinary, average, well-meaning, well-behaved people, THAT CANNOT "SEEM TO GET ALONG."

Every reader—EVERY YOUNG MAN, AT LEAST— should look at this picture, study it, WITHOUT DECEIVING HIMSELF.

He should make up his mind which one of these animals threatens HIS success. He should make up his mind how HE can defeat either or both of them.

There is no use in looking at a picture of this kind or reading an editorial of this kind, unless you go to work and make it of some use to you—or to your friends.

At the bottom of the picture you see a man with a sword in his hand.

Imagine yourself in his place.

What would you do? Whatever you would do, in the place of this man in the picture, YOU MUST DO IN YOUR OWN LIFE NOW.

You have got to make a choice that stands in your way. You have got to make a choice that is there, and then fight it.

realizing that UNLESS YOU CONQUER IT, IT WILL CONQUER YOU.

When you have routed out the viciousness in your disposition, then go at the LAZINESS, which is slow and sleepy, and can wait until the vice is killed.

What do you need in any kind of a fight? YOU NEED A GOOD WEAPON.

In a fight against yourself you need the one great weapon, which is WILL POWER.

WILL POWER—the force which makes possible repeated, determined, steady effort—is the only thing that will help you in life's fight.

There are those that say that we cannot change ourselves, that we must always remain as we were made, with our weaknesses and our strength, as at the beginning. BUT THAT IS FALSE.

A man CAN change himself.

The drunkard in the gutter can rise to the highest place. IF HE WILL TRY HARD ENOUGH. The victim of self-indulgence, under the stimulus of the will, CAN become methodical, energetic.

The way to bring about the change is through STEADY, DAILY, CEASELESS EFFORT. There is no use in making violent effort, lasting a few seconds, and leaving you weaker in strength than you were before.

Study yourself, study your capacity. BE REGULAR AND PERSISTENT. Consult with your friend—your wife if you are married—make plans and try to STICK to them.

The way to get up early in the morning, for instance, is TO GO TO BED EARLY THE NIGHT BEFORE.

As long as you go to bed too late, YOU WILL GET UP TOO LATE—or if you get up early you will be tired and your work will be of no use.

Reform must begin at THE RIGHT END.

If you want to get out of some vicious habit, remember that you can only do it by ADDING TO YOUR STRENGTH.

Good sleep, good eating, a WELL NOURISHED BODY will do a great deal to overcome a desire for drink.

If your mind is given to foolish amusements, dissipation, gambling—remember that before you can take away that interest, YOU MUST REPLACE IT WITH SOME OTHER.

Get a real interest in YOUR WORK, begin saving your money, BY BUILDING UP YOUR CAPITAL AND YOUR INDEPENDENCE.

Make plans, carry them out, TRY TO BE AS MUCH INTERESTED IN YOUR OWN POWERS OF SELF-CONTROL AS IN THE FOOLISH RUNNING OF SOME HORSE OR THE TURNING UP OF SOME CARD.

For young men unmarried, MARRIAGE PROBABLY IS THE BEST POSSIBLE THING. It forces serious thought; it brings a great interest with the children and a steady sense of responsibility. In proportion to them, UNMARRIED YOUNG MEN COMMIT TEN TIMES AS MUCH FOOLISHNESS AS THE MARRIED MEN.

The unmarried man is like a ship with no rudder, going in any direction, erratically.

So much for general, dull talk on this striking, TRUTHFUL cartoon.

Our readers will think and talk to each other about this picture more intelligently, more to the point, than we have written about it.

We ask them simply to realize to what extent, if any, these two enemies of humanity oppose them.

Each of us should bear in mind one of the BIBLE'S most profound truths:

"He that is slow to anger is better than the mighty; and he that ruleth his spirit, than he that taketh a city."

Each of us should learn, first of all, to rule himself. It is the HARDEST thing that any man can learn—it is the lesson most rarely learned by human beings.

But once learned, difficulties fall away, enemies disappear, the road to a good life, to a peaceful, honorable ending, is clear and straight.

A Petition.

Copyright, 1908, by American Journal-Businessmen.

LORD, give the mothers of the world
More love to do their part;
That love which reaches not alone
The children made by birth their own,
But every childish heart.
Wake in their souls true motherhood
Which aims at universal good.

Lord, give the teachers of the world
More love, and let them see
How baser metals in their store
May be transformed to precious ore
By love's strange alchemy.
And let them daily seek to find
The childish HEART beneath the mind.

BY ELLA
WHEELER
WILCOX.

Lord, give the preachers of the world
More love to warm the word
They speak for tender souls to hear;
Too long old dogmas based on fear
The human race has heard.
Inspire Thy ministers to feed
Their flocks upon a loving creed.

Lord, give the Christians of the world
More love for daily use;
And show them simple ways to prove
They do not keep the Rule of Love
For homilies abstruse,
But live each day Thy golden law
As if Thou dwelt on earth and saw.

LOVE
ONE

great sisters, Merope, Electra, Maia, are arrayed with soft faces of lustrous fire, drawn out in streaming ribbons, whose celestial beauty is beyond description.

But most entrancing is the sight of the long ways roads, highways—how shall I call them?—that resemble tracks of silver dust, stretching in many directions, over distances of billions of miles, and along which, at more or less regular intervals, like the lamps of so many cities and villages, seen at night, appear rows of stars.

"Let us follow one of these avenues of star dust," says the Captain. So our car is turned toward a star which stands at the head of one of the gleaming lines, begin-immense row of suns were connected with one another by an unbroken series of comets' tails, forming an electric brotherhood of solar bodies, each thriving with the touch of the phantom cable that binds them together. At one point the current suddenly makes a bend, and at that point stands a star, and thence the luminous pathway runs straight on in a changed direction into the depths of space, and all along its course other stars are strung.

"Often have I looked at this thing in photographs of the Pleiades and wondered what it was," says the Professor. "But even now that we are here, who can comprehend it?"

ON A SHIP OF SPACE A Visit to the Pleiades. BY GARRETT P. SERVISS

DU'R course is reversed, and down the stream of light pouring from the great star of the legend we speed, overtaking and passing like the wind its racing waves, which we breasted on our approach; and the mighty orb, whose unspeakable splendor held us silent, wanes and dwindles until it has become once more but a twinkling point!

And now we overtake the front of the on-rushing flood of light waves, which have advanced, who shall calculate how many trillions of miles since we first met them, and how long ago they were born. The other are lost in the midst of the ocean of immensity sweeping blindly on, spreading their luminous circle ever wider and wider, and a million years, or perchance many millions, must elapse before they shall break upon the shore of our existence. How few of the hosts of love left there to await them for the precent poet. The Only Woman waves her hand in farewell as our car leaps through the last of the luminous breakers and darkness closes around us with a yarning cry in the direction whence the haze was but now faintly visible.

Again we shoot in among the thronging universes, the atoms of the endless cosmos, vibrant cells of the all-embracing brain of the Creator, flashing transcendent thought. Thus we pursue our breathless course until the Captain's voice and pointing finger bid us look ahead. There is something strangely familiar in what we now behold! Can that be the Milky Way? Yes, it surely is. Its clouds of stars assume their well-known forms, even though now we view them from without.

Presently we pass through a dark gap and become aware, with leaping hearts, that we have crossed once more the threshold of our home—our own universe. Here again are the starry armies of Sagittarius and Aquila and Perseus. Yonder gleam Canopus and Rigel and Sirius. We have seen many other universes ablaze with superlative splendors, but have we looked upon anything more beau-

"Now that we are in our home circle again?" says the Captain, "whither shall we go?"

"Oh to the Pleiades!" exclaims she to whose wish we have all learned gladly to bow. "If they are as beautiful and as wonderful as we used to think them from the earth, they will restore our admiration and love for our own sidereal heavens after our dazzling experiences in outer space."

Accordingly, we steer toward the constellation Taurus, whose location is indicated by the rose-red ray of its brightest sun, Aldebaran. Soon the Pleiades are glittering before us, Alyone outshining all her sisters, as of old.

"The sight of these stars," remarks the Professor, "reminds me of a theory which held wide sway over the popular imagination once, and had the authority of a German astronomer, Maedler, to support it. The theory was that Alcyone yonder, the superbly beautiful queen of this strange court of stars, was the centre of the visible universe, the solar hub round which it turned, with all its stars, like one vast begemmed wheel. And there were not lacking those who thought it possible, or probable, that Alcyone was the seat of the Almighty

"Again we shoot in among Himself, who thus dwelt in the midst of His creation, and beheld
It circling grandly, obediently with the divine harmony of all the spheres, about His throne.

"It was a sublime conception, but was based on error. Maedler had wrongly interpreted certain data concerning the proper motions of the stars, which seemed to indicate that they all turned round the Pleiades as a centre. Later

"Indeed," says the Only Woman, "have we, even in all our journeyings, seen any place that seemed the special abode of God?"

"No," replied the Captain, "and if we should journey through all eternity, I could not show you such a place. How could that Power, which knows neither time nor distance, be fixed at any centre? Centre and circumference, must, to Him, be the same. We shall have made this stupendous voyage in vain if it does not vivify our sense of the omnipresence of God."

But now we have approached so near the Pielades that their principal stars appear thrown wide apart, and the semblance to a cluster ter would be gone but for the innumerable smaller stars which have become visible, scattered among their greater companions; and, especially, but for the wondrous bands, circlets and haloes of nebulous haze that interlace them all. The existence of these mysterious things was well known to us on the earth, through the many photographs that our astronomers had made of them, but in those photographs we could only glimpse imperfectly, a part of the marvelous system of mingled stars and nebulae.

Now we behold it all, in its full magnificence and strangeness. A cyclone appears to us enveloped in a vast sparkling cloud, through which shoot out immense beams like those of a searchlight straying through a foggy atmosphere. Her great sisters, Merope, Electra, Maia, are arrayed with soft laces of lustrous fire, drawn out in streaming ribbons, whose celestial beauty is beyond description.

But most entrancing is the sight of the long ways, roads, highways—how shall I call them?—that resemble tracks of silver dust, stretching in many directions, over distances of billions of miles, and along which, at more or less regular intervals, like the lamps of so many cities and villages, seen at night, appear rows of stars.

"Let us follow one of these avenues of star dust," says the Captain. So our car is turned toward a star which stands at the head of one of the gleaming lines, beginning in the heart of the Pleiades. We follow the stream and move along its course. But what a revelation! It is a stream of electrified particles in which we find ourselves enveloped. The car is filled with a gentle glimmering, and our nerves feel the stimulation, even through the crystal walls. From one star to another in this marvelous electric chain of currents of ions and corpuscles seem to flow to and fro, and we are as if enclosed in an enormous Crookes or Geissler tube, borne along with the glowing electric streams.

Star after star we pass, set in the vast, softly flowing river like blazing islands, and each time we perceive that the star receives and gives forth the electrified currents, exchanging with its nearest neighbor on either side. It is as if an immense row of suns were connected with one another by an unbroken series of comets' tails, forming an electric brotherhood of solar bodies, each thrilling with the touch of the phantom cable that binds them together. At one point the current suddenly makes a bend, and at that point stands a star, and thence the luminous pathway runs straight on in a

"Often have I looked at this thing in photographs of the Pleiades and wondered what it was," says the Professor. "But even now that we are here, who can comprehend it?"

Following the electric beam, with its row of enchain'd stars, we have passed beyond the central sphere of the Pleiades, and glancing back we behold a most strange spectacle. We perceive that the spikes of luminosity issuing from the great glowing coronas that envelope a principal suns of the cluster connect them, too, in an electric network. Alcyone sends her nebulous beams to Merope, and Merope reaches forth electric arms to Electra and Electra grasps her daughter Maia, and Maia connects in the same marvellous manner with Cacleno, Taygeta and Asterope, and so the whole great sisterhood of the original "Seven Stars" is mystically bound together. One can almost sympathize with admiration the clairvoyant lines of Tennyson about the Pleiades, where he says that they:

"Gitter like a swarm of fireflies TANGLED IN A SILVER BRAID."

The New Dispensation in Mumboogla 🍄 By Little Johnny

Copyright, 1906, by American-Journal Exam-NED did Uncle Ned no wot nink rabbit himp, and he sed Uncle Ned Yes, Johnny, his cos he was sassy.
 rabbit he was created up rite and w eat like he was a dog, and one day in the men of Eden he cum a trotting along Addam was, and Addam he sed good morn to him, real polite. The rub he sed, mornin yure self, are you the feler wi been give dominion over all the

of the feeld?"

 Addam he sed he was, and th
Wel, you aint no grate things fo and I ges if you wude tackle th wud get licked.

 That wude Addam real furius kicked the rabit hard as he cud, and the rabit he has been lam
And, Johnny, that of to teach her beasts ab he sed, to look at, luggar you and he ity crows, ver since,

to be to respectful to yurs und dont think he is much But Mr. Billy, with good deal for to se, cos he wen he cums along the make fun of him. One bruther, he done it an was nity mud, he ceter

Then Billy he squealed we, like a little pig when no matter if you look at.

the butcher, he is a fat like hogs, and boys grants for to me Billy, thats my Mister Billy, wich
d him by the ear.
d and wrl. We, we,
et by its father.

called the hi preest and r and sho him our new t me and shafed my hed h rose woler and put a t on me and ointed my burn berds and led me to me for to erol on the ly under a star spangle
the lite of 3 tallo candles

y office unable ~~to~~ for to Inter- land wasnt a yuman being, and the cam-the rest. g nny, I remembered that a ship the linoly, with a cargo of ~~five~~ hogs, B e at Moonzambek, a hundred sed, coast, and downless this feller Bill;
survivor, but wot was the ~~use~~? king a chance had Reason against the felt called for to deliver a other- fie rom errors chain, and bying seventy lodes of elliphants teeths for a pound beeds, I left the kingdom for to spread e in New York.

if me and Billy had ben there we wuld hat's nothin but ony jest a hog, and rude have slew the hi preest and the nd usert the crown for his self. Cos le it ses the wicked shal be exolted and n the rath to cum!

"Ointed my whiskers with oil of hum berds."

"It was a great big shovel nose, razer back, shrew tall Arkansas hog."

MRS. FRICK NOW IN NORTH SHORE PALACE

With Her Daughters, Wife of Steel King
Frick's Retirement of Entertainment Infringe's

With the arrival of Mrs. Henry Frick, the clever wife of the steel king, at her North Shore residence—where she will spend the summer—she will give it right away as an enterprising, the North Shore adds another distinguished member to its already noted list of residents.

Mrs. Frick, accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. Eliza, came quietly to Beverly Hills, where she will reside for the summer.

Her residence is at Look Hill, and she will be the only one of her kind in the North Shore.

She is a native of Pennsylvania, and her father was a prominent merchant.

She is a native of Pennsylvania, and her father was a prominent merchant.

She is a native of Pennsylvania, and her father was a prominent merchant.

She is a native of Pennsylvania, and her father was a prominent merchant.

She is a native of Pennsylvania, and her father was a prominent merchant.

She is a native of Pennsylvania, and her father was a prominent merchant.

She is a native of Pennsylvania, and her father was a prominent merchant.

She is a native of Pennsylvania, and her father was a prominent merchant.

She is a native of Pennsylvania, and her father was a prominent merchant.

She is a native of Pennsylvania, and her father was a prominent merchant.

She is a native of Pennsylvania, and her father was a prominent merchant.

She is a native of Pennsylvania, and her father was a prominent merchant.

She is a native of Pennsylvania, and her father was a prominent merchant.

She is a native of Pennsylvania, and her father was a prominent merchant.

She is a native of Pennsylvania, and her father was a prominent merchant.

She is a native of Pennsylvania, and her father was a prominent merchant.

She is a native of Pennsylvania, and her father was a prominent merchant.

She is a native of Pennsylvania, and her father was a prominent merchant.

She is a native of Pennsylvania, and her father was a prominent merchant.

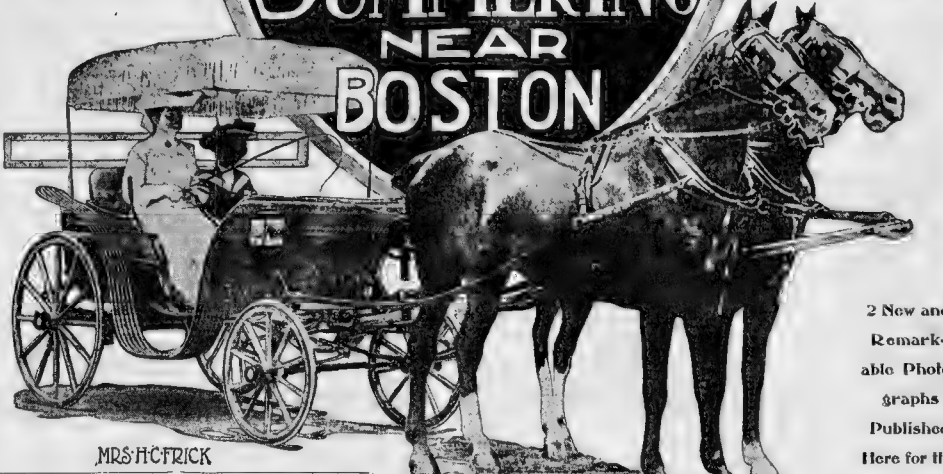

She is a native of Pennsylvania, and her father was a prominent merchant.

She is a native of Pennsylvania, and her father was a prominent merchant.

She is a native of Pennsylvania, and her father was a prominent merchant.

She is a native of Pennsylvania, and her father was a prominent merchant.

She is a native of Pennsylvania, and her father was a prominent merchant.

MRS. FRICK

SOCIETY PILGRIMAGE TO THE RACES AT CYDE PARK

BY A SOCIETY WOMAN.

Blue skies bend softly down and canopied gay scenes in Boston the past week. Through air sweet with the scent of snowy myrtles and over roadways that were vistas of blossoms, society in motor cars and on foot, came to the races at Cyde Park, where the excitement of the carnival of racing at Cyde Park, which opened Thursday, was continued yesterday and will reach a grand climax to-morrow.

Nature, never more so prodigal with her glory of green, made a fit setting for the sartorial side of the show, which eclipses in brilliancy all former affairs of the kind. With beautiful gowns and bright-tinted sunshades, boxes and parking places are now dancing mass of color.

Charming informal luncheons and dinner parties at the clubhouse play a part in making this season's races memorable. Interest appears in the grand annual and the other important and exciting spectacles, and the fact that the races are open to society in its finest frock and merriest mood expects to be there.

Miss Blake to Wed in England.

Popular Beatrice Blake, one of the prettiest members of the Vincent Club, whose engagement to William Nickerson was recently announced, and about whose wedding there has been considerable speculation, sailed for Europe Friday. Miss Blake was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Arthur Welland Blake of Brookline, and sailed on the Celtic from New York. Her wedding will take place in September at the home of her sister, Mrs. F. L. Richardson, in Devonshire, Eng. Miss Olivia Thorndike, who is abroad, will be her cousin's maid of honor.

Beaver Farm, will join their daughter in Europe later in the season and remain in England for the wedding of the niece.

Among the birds of passage just returned from foreign shores are Mrs. Lester Leland of Beacon street, who has spent the past several months in Europe; Miss Elizabeth Davis of Commonwealth avenue, who was abroad all winter; and Mrs. Thomas Talbot.

Among those to sail this week are Mrs. Edward D. Rice of Jamaica Plain and their young daughter, Miss Isabel Rice, and the Misses Abby and Annie Manning, who are to sail the 26th, and will spend the summer in Ireland on the Continent.

Quiet Wedding for Miss Saltston.

Well to the fore among Spring's fairest brides is Miss Rosamond Saltston, whose wedding to the Rev. Mr. Saltston will take place Tuesday at the Saltston residence on Fairfield street. It is to be a quiet affair, with only the most intimate friends and both families present.

Mr. Auchincloss, who was graduated from Yale three years ago, and completes the course at Harvard Law School this month, gave his bride, Miss Saltston, a dinner at her bride's home at the home of her sister, Mrs. Noel Lantieri, on Fairfield street.

Miss Saltston, who will make an unusually interesting and attractive bride, was born in Europe, Mr. Auchincloss will take his bride to New York to reside.

Stork Visits Society Leaders.

The stork, like the birds, seems to favor the rose month, and continues to bring precious burdens to the homes of Boston's socially elite. It is at present hovering over the home of the Henry Channings, on Marlborough street. Mrs. Channing, who, before her marriage, was Katherine Minot, is one of Boston's most charming matrons. She goes to Weymouth the 26th to remain throughout the summer.

At the home of the Henry Channings, on Marlborough street, was the favored last week, and is now receiving congratulations upon the birth of a son.

Mr. and Mrs. Prescott Stone of New York were others included in the stork's calls, and are now happy parents of a son, born the first of the week. Miss Stone, who was married to Mr. Stone, is now a resident in Boston social circles.

Prominent among those leaving town for summer homes the past week were Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Hildes of Marlborough street, who have gone to their estate at "Hildes Wood," at Swampscott, and Mr. and Mrs. William P. Graves, who are occupying their new cottage at Nantucket.

SOCIETY EXODUS TO EUROPE IS ON

Country Club Races and the Approach of Harvard Class Day Add Greatly to Gayety.

Boston society is feverishly gay just now and with the Country Club week, Harvard class day and the approach of Harvard Class Day, which will begin on Monday, the social season is in full swing.

Harvard class day is a most important event in the social calendar, and is celebrated with great enthusiasm. The class of 1906, which is the largest in the history of the university, is expected to number over 1,000 men.

The Country Club week, which begins on Monday, is also a most important event in the social calendar. The club is expected to be very full, and the races are expected to be very exciting.

The approach of Harvard Class Day, which will begin on Monday, is also a most important event in the social calendar. The class of 1906, which is the largest in the history of the university, is expected to number over 1,000 men.

The Country Club week, which begins on Monday, is also a most important event in the social calendar. The club is expected to be very full, and the races are expected to be very exciting.

The approach of Harvard Class Day, which will begin on Monday, is also a most important event in the social calendar. The class of 1906, which is the largest in the history of the university, is expected to number over 1,000 men.

The Country Club week, which begins on Monday, is also a most important event in the social calendar. The club is expected to be very full, and the races are expected to be very exciting.

The approach of Harvard Class Day, which will begin on Monday, is also a most important event in the social calendar. The class of 1906, which is the largest in the history of the university, is expected to number over 1,000 men.

The Country Club week, which begins on Monday, is also a most important event in the social calendar. The club is expected to be very full, and the races are expected to be very exciting.

The approach of Harvard Class Day, which will begin on Monday, is also a most important event in the social calendar. The class of 1906, which is the largest in the history of the university, is expected to number over 1,000 men.

The Country Club week, which begins on Monday, is also a most important event in the social calendar. The club is expected to be very full, and the races are expected to be very exciting.

The approach of Harvard Class Day, which will begin on Monday, is also a most important event in the social calendar. The class of 1906, which is the largest in the history of the university, is expected to number over 1,000 men.

The Country Club week, which begins on Monday, is also a most important event in the social calendar. The club is expected to be very full, and the races are expected to be very exciting.

The approach of Harvard Class Day, which will begin on Monday, is also a most important event in the social calendar. The class of 1906, which is the largest in the history of the university, is expected to number over 1,000 men.

The Country Club week, which begins on Monday, is also a most important event in the social calendar. The club is expected to be very full, and the races are expected to be very exciting.

The approach of Harvard Class Day, which will begin on Monday, is also a most important event in the social calendar. The class of 1906, which is the largest in the history of the university, is expected to number over 1,000 men.

The Country Club week, which begins on Monday, is also a most important event in the social calendar. The club is expected to be very full, and the races are expected to be very exciting.

The approach of Harvard Class Day, which will begin on Monday, is also a most important event in the social calendar. The class of 1906, which is the largest in the history of the university, is expected to number over 1,000 men.

The Country Club week, which begins on Monday, is also a most important event in the social calendar. The club is expected to be very full, and the races are expected to be very exciting.

2 New and Remarkable Photographs Published Here for the First Time.

Some of the new photographs are by Mr. William H. Appleton, John Adams, and others. The photographs are of great interest and are published here for the first time.

The photographs are of great interest and are published here for the first time.

The photographs are of great interest and are published here for the first time.

The photographs are of great interest and are published here for the first time.

The photographs are of great interest and are published here for the first time.

The photographs are of great interest and are published here for the first time.

The photographs are of great interest and are published here for the first time.

The photographs are of great interest and are published here for the first time.

The photographs are of great interest and are published here for the first time.

The photographs are of great interest and are published here for the first time.

The photographs are of great interest and are published here for the first time.

The photographs are of great interest and are published here for the first time.

The photographs are of great interest and are published here for the first time.

The photographs are of great interest and are published here for the first time.

The photographs are of great interest and are published here for the first time.

The photographs are of great interest and are published here for the first time.

The photographs are of great interest and are published here for the first time.

The photographs are of great interest and are published here for the first time.

The photographs are of great interest and are published here for the first time.

The photographs are of great interest and are published here for the first time.

SOCIETY PLANS TO CHEER "ACAMEMNON"

Thousands to Throng Stadium Tuesday as Harvard Students Give Classic Play.

The coming week will be a gay one socially, each being filled with events which make strong bonds for friendship and good will.

The coming week will be a gay one socially, each being filled with events which make strong bonds for friendship and good will.

The coming week will be a gay one socially, each being filled with events which make strong bonds for friendship and good will.

The coming week will be a gay one socially, each being filled with events which make strong bonds for friendship and good will.

The coming week will be a gay one socially, each being filled with events which make strong bonds for friendship and good will.

The coming week will be a gay one socially, each being filled with events which make strong bonds for friendship and good will.

The coming week will be a gay one socially, each being filled with events which make strong bonds for friendship and good will.

The coming week will be a gay one socially, each being filled with events which make strong bonds for friendship and good will.

The coming week will be a gay one socially, each being filled with events which make strong bonds for friendship and good will.

The coming week will be a gay one socially, each being filled with events which make strong bonds for friendship and good will.

The coming week will be a gay one socially, each being filled with events which make strong bonds for friendship and good will.

The coming week will be a gay one socially, each being filled with events which make strong bonds for friendship and good will.

The coming week will be a gay one socially, each being filled with events which make strong bonds for friendship and good will.

The coming week will be a gay one socially, each being filled with events which make strong bonds for friendship and good will.

The coming week will be a gay one socially, each being filled with events which make strong bonds for friendship and good will.

The coming week will be a gay one socially, each being filled with events which make strong bonds for friendship and good will.

The coming week will be a gay one socially, each being filled with events which make strong bonds for friendship and good will.

The coming week will be a gay one socially, each being filled with events which make strong bonds for friendship and good will.

The coming week will be a gay one socially, each being filled with events which make strong bonds for friendship and good will.

THE SONG VALUE OF THE COMRADES' IDEA

Illustrated by the song, "Good-bye, Pal," printed to-day on other pages of this newspaper.

Illustrated by the song, "Good-bye, Pal," printed to-day on other pages of this newspaper.

Illustrated by the song, "Good-bye, Pal," printed to-day on other pages of this newspaper.

Illustrated by the song, "Good-bye, Pal," printed to-day on other pages of this newspaper.

Illustrated by the song, "Good-bye, Pal," printed to-day on other pages of this newspaper.

Illustrated by the song, "Good-bye, Pal," printed to-day on other pages of this newspaper.

Illustrated by the song, "Good-bye, Pal," printed to-day on other pages of this newspaper.

Illustrated by the song, "Good-bye, Pal," printed to-day on other pages of this newspaper.

Illustrated by the song, "Good-bye, Pal," printed to-day on other pages of this newspaper.

Illustrated by the song, "Good-bye, Pal," printed to-day on other pages of this newspaper.

Illustrated by the song, "Good-bye, Pal," printed to-day on other pages of this newspaper.

Illustrated by the song, "Good-bye, Pal," printed to-day on other pages of this newspaper.

Illustrated by the song, "Good-bye, Pal," printed to-day on other pages of this newspaper.

Illustrated by the song, "Good-bye, Pal," printed to-day on other pages of this newspaper.

Illustrated by the song, "Good-bye, Pal," printed to-day on other pages of this newspaper.

Illustrated by the song, "Good-bye, Pal," printed to-day on other pages of this newspaper.

Illustrated by the song, "Good-bye, Pal," printed to-day on other pages of this newspaper.

Illustrated by the song, "Good-bye, Pal," printed to-day on other pages of this newspaper.

Illustrated by the song, "Good-bye, Pal," printed to-day on other pages of this newspaper.

Illustrated by the song, "Good-bye, Pal," printed to-day on other pages of this newspaper.

MISS DOROTHY FORDES

William Henry Appleton, John Adams, and others. The photographs are of great interest and are published here for the first time.

The photographs are of great interest and are published here for the first time.

The photographs are of great interest and are published here for the first time.

The photographs are of great interest and are published here for the first time.

The photographs are of great interest and are published here for the first time.

The photographs are of great interest and are published here for the first time.

The photographs are of great interest and are published here for the first time.

The photographs are of great interest and are published here for the first time.

The photographs are of great interest and are published here for the first time.

The photographs are of great interest and are published here for the first time.

The photographs are of great interest and are published here for the first time.

The photographs are of great interest and are published here for the first time.

The photographs are of great interest and are published here for the first time.

The photographs are of great interest and are published here for the first time.

The photographs are of great interest and are published here for the first time.

The photographs are of great interest and are published here for the first time.

The photographs are of great interest and are published here for the first time.

The photographs are of great interest and are published here for the first time.

The photographs are of great interest and are published here for the first time.

The photographs are of great interest and are published here for the first time.

The photographs are of great interest and are published here for the first time.

The photographs are of great interest and are published here for the first time.

The photographs are of great interest and are published here for the first time.

The photographs are of great interest and are published here for the first time.

The photographs are of great interest and are published here for the first time.

MRS BRYCE
ALLAN

WOMEN ADD GREATLY TO SOCIAL SUCCESS OF RACES

MRS BRYCE
ALLAN

[illegible]

PRIDE'S CROSSING

Pride's Crossing, June 16.—Mrs. George P. King and daughter, Mrs. Anna King of Boston, were among the early part of the

The David M. Francis cottage on shore.

Mr. and Mrs. Royall, of the U. S. A., are registered at the Casino. Mr. and Mrs. Royall

James F. D. Lanier (Harvard at "Gravel Court," on Tompkins Avenue on Catherine street and of New York

Mr. W. Monroe Brown - no little attention and come to spend the come popular among the fair to be er set.

Famous Novel That Has Startled the Nation

UPTON SINCLAIR, AUTHOR OF "THE JUNGLE," AND SCENES IN THE STOCKYARDS IN PACKINGTOWN.

SYNOPSIS

THE story of "The Jungle," Upton Sinclair's novel, which has caused the Government investigation into the methods employed by the Beef Trust, has its origin in an actual Packingtown romance.

The first chapter shows a broad-shouldered butcher being wedded to a young girl who sees in him a hero. The wedding, in all its grotesqueness, is described.

Practically penniless, Juris tells his bride she shall not return to work in the packing house—he will work early and late.

On arriving in Chicago, J. Seedvilas, a Lithuanian, who runs a delicatessen store in Packingtown, guided Jurgis, Ona, Marija and the remainder of the party through the stock yards, after he had given them lodging.

The little coterie decided to purchase a house. They were to pay $12 a month for it. They find they have been swindled—that the company charges such interest that they will be unable to pay.

Jurks refused to join a labor union that would have promoted the interests of all. He did not understand that the life was being worked out of him.

Yesterday's instalment of the story recites in part the home life of the little family; tells how, after the real estate agent had informed Jurgis that he would have to pay large interest on the house, Stanislovas, the little boy who was sent to work, with a certificate which lied, in that it gave his age as sixteen. It is told how Antanas, working like a slave, is finally a victim of saltpetre poisoning. Ona, too, has to seek work. She pays ten dollars tribute to a forelady who engages her—and she gets but eight or ten dollars a week for agonizing labor. For weeks pains rack her—yet she must work. And Jurgis tells on, the manhood being sapped from him by the horrible grind of the merciless lords of Packingtown.

Copyright, 1906, by Upton Sinclair. All rights reserved.
Published by courtesy of Doubleday, Page & Co.

CHAPTER VII.—Continued.

HOTIMMER Jangle would be working until late at night, and then it was pitiful, for there was no place for the little fellow to wait, save in the doorways or in a corner of the killing beds, and he would sit all but fast asleep there, and freeze to death.

There was no heat upon the killing beds, and the men might as well have worked out of doors all winter. But that matter was not his business. He was in the building, except in the bare lanes in the middle of the night, and he was in each place—and it was the men who were to blame for that. They were drunk or asleep, or they were too tired to do anything, because whenever they had a drink or a smoke, they would go to the nearest of the other rooms that lay down through the building, and they would be fast asleep on above the water, except in the narrow underbirth.

And the killing beds were not to be covered with blood, and they would freeze solid; for you landed another a jar, you would be killed, and if you put your hand upon the blade of your knife, you would run a chance of losing your

INHUMAN TORTURES

[illegible]

THE JUNGLE BY Upton Sinclair

Thrilling Story of Packingtown voice and her violence ceased him, and he got the habit of paying her visits on Sunday afternoons. There was no place to go any except in the kitchen of the family, and Tamozius there with his hat between his legs more than half a dozen times a day, and turning red in the face and shouting to any one who would clap him upon the back, saying, "Come, come, come a tune."

to terrify coming to sona.
am com-and list and alt s never da at a n fore by Jar in his brother.
light
e, that it

him would flame up a —It was almost an imp while his gaze would li ja's face, until she w
red and lower her eyes.
There was no realis Tamozeius, however;
would sit awed and tears would run down cheeks.
A wonderful privilege admitted into the soul so be allowed to share the agonies of his immo
Then there were oth and become eloquent propriety, for all the eyes were fixed upon Maricould begin to turn ting the music of even the children wondering, and the rn Seta Elizabeth's it was to be thus of a man of genius, the ecstasies and at life

her benefits accruing

ential nature. People paid money to come and make the occasions; and also they came to parties and festivals, but that he was too good natured about his friends, and that having, he could be made to play danced.

He would ask Marija to go to such a party, and Marija's great delight after which she went anywhere without her. The celebration were given by him, he would invite the rest of the family. In any case Marija would for the children, and stories of the good things she herself had managed to consume.

She was compelled, at these parties, to spend most of her time at the refreshment table, for she could not dance with only except other women and very old.

Tamozias was of an excitable temperament and afflicted with a frantic jealousy and any unmarried man who ventured to put his arm about the ample bosom of Marija would be certain to throw her out of tune.

TO BE CONTINUED TOMORROW

JULY
COSMOPOLITAN
10 CENTS

Cosmopolitan for July continues to improve on the high standard of magazine excellence that it has set month by month. This issue contains, among articles and stories of exceptional interest, the following:—

HOW THE ARMY WORKED TO SAVE SAN FRANCISCO by Brig.-Gen. Frederick Funston, U. S. A.

A brilliant, soldierly narrative, telling how the regular army labored in San Francisco after the earthquake, and during and after the fire completed the destruction of the city, to bring order out of chaos. General Funston tells the terrible truth of the catastrophe and of the splendid heroism of the stricken people. There are sixteen illustrations—a selection best adapted to give Cosmopolitan readers an exact idea of the facts. Two large pictures, 25 inches long and folded into the issue, show panoramas of San Francisco before and after its destruction.

POOR GIRLS WHO MARRY MILLIONS
by Lida Rose McCabe

(Truth is always stranger than fiction.)

In these days of millionaires and men who make millions in a few years, poor girls who make millions in a day are not unusual, by any means. The great men of this nation have risen from comparative poverty, and from the same station of life the beauty and love of womanhood have come. From the stage, from the business office, from the slums, men of wealth have taken wives who have that beauty and innate culture which make them fit their new station perfectly—as though to the manner born. These girls have elevated their husbands more than they have themselves been elevated in station.

CHAPTER VII

YET even by this deadly Winter the germ of hope was not to be kept from sprouting in their hearts. It was just at this time that the great adventure befell

The victim was Tamossius Kusselika, who played the violin. Everybody laughed at them, for Tamossius was petite and frail, and Marija could have picked him up and carried him off under one arm. But perhaps that was why she fascinated him; the sheer volume of Marija's energy was overwhelming.

At the wedding, Tamossius had hardly taken his eyes off her, and later on, when he came to find that she had really the heart of a baby, her

"First Aid" to the Bowels

Then he works them (through the nerves) till they get so strong from that Exercise that they don't need any more help to do their duty.

But Dr. Cascaret wants to be right on the spot, in your Pocket or Purse, where he can regulate these Bowel-Muscles all the time, in health, and out of health.

Because, even the strongest Bowel-Muscles may be overworked.
Heavy dinners, late suppers, whiskey, wine or beer drinking, nervous excitement, sudden exposure to cold or heat and a dozen other every day likelihoods tire the Bowel Muscles.

In such cases a little Cascaret in time is worth fifty dollars worth of Treatment later on, to say nothing of the suffering, discomfort, loss of Business Energy, and loss of Social Sunshine it saves.

* * *

Old Dr. Cascaret carried constantly in your Vest Pocket, or in "My Lady's"

Purse is the cheapest kind of Health-Insurance, and Happiness-Promotion, that ever happened.

Little thin enamel Cigarette Box, half as thick as your watch, round-cornered, smooth-edged, and shaped so you don't notice its press nose.

Contains six Candy tablets—Price Ten Cents a Box at any Druggist's.

Be sure you get the genuine, made only by the Sterling Remedy Company, and never sold in bulk. Every tablet stamped "CCC."

716a

FREE TO OUR FRIENDS!
We want to send to our friends a beautiful French-designed GULD-PLATED BONBON BOX hard-enamelled in colors. It is a beauty for the dressing table. Ten cents in stamps is asked as a measure of good faith and to cover cost of Cascarots with which this dainty trinket is loaded.
Send to-day, mentioning this paper. Address: Star Line Remedy Company, Chicago, Ill. 60601.

THE TREASON OF
THE SENATE by David Graham
Phillips

(Expose of Senator Bailey of Texas.)

By contrast with the "statesmen" of to-day, the political giants of this country's early history looked into colossal proportions; and the reading of their biographies points out what honesty of purpose in public life can accomplish. Andrew Jackson was one of those whole-souled, honest, short-sleeve statesmen who made this country's greatness possible. The "Story of Andrew Jackson," now running in the COSMOPOLITAN, is not a dry, matter-of-fact biography, but is a fascinating, brilliant historical novel, every word of which is true. One having commenced to read it, you won't be able to lay the "Story of Andrew Jackson" aside.

STORY OF ANDREW JACKSON by

(An historical novel that is true.)

JULY
COSMOPOLITAN
10 CENTS

At All News-stands or 1789 Broadway, New York City

FREE TICKETS TO WONDERLAND
CUT OUT THE COUPON
ON PAGE 30.

HEARST'S
BOSTON AMERICAN Weather Forecast for Sunday
Cloudy and Cool Sunday, Light Rains in Morning.

This Edition of HEARST'S
Boston American CONSISTS OF
1—News column—2 Parts 4—Comic Supplement
2—Editorial Section 5—Music
3—Magan Section

VOL. 3—No. 88. 30 PAGES

BOSTON, SUNDAY, JUNE 17, 1906.

Copyright, 1906, by the New England Newspaper Publishing Company

30 PAGES

PRICE FIVE CENTS.

Russian Crisis Near; Duma Ready to Defy Czar and Seize the Reins of Government JEETCHERED BY MOB IN BIALYSTOK

'GRAFT' REPORTS SHOWS CONSPIRACY TO DODGE PRIBE FACTS

Dissection of Testimony Proves Brazen Purpose Was to Conceal Beacon Hill Corruption.

THE Committee on Rules of the Massachusetts House of Representatives, which has just reported on its investigation, stands convicted before the people of the State of deliberately conducting a "white wash" hearing. It has been convicted by its own actions. It is doubly convicted by the testimony it took in secret.

Did Not Try to Get at Inside Facts.

It has not been possible to give all the testimony to the public. The committee saw to it that when it held its secret sessions, it excluded all the evidence in the State Library, even in the brief time that it had, thanks to its perfect care, that the purpose of the committee was negative. It did not try to get at the inside facts. It did not follow the "inside" with which the evidence is filled. It did not really investigate at all.

Quinlan Counsel Drew Amendments

Isaiah R. Clark is the attorney for J. J. Quinlan & Co., bucket shop proprietors. He testified that during the days preceding the killing of the anti-bucket shop bill he drafted, or caused to be drafted, either J. J. Quinlan or John V. Flanagan, who is under indictment at the present time—several amendments to the bill.

Committee Did Not Pursue Inquiry

The committee did not pursue this inquiry. It took no action, so far as it was possible, to get at the truth. It was not even allowed to see the amendments drafted by Mr. Clark, or to see the bucket shop firm, or to see the original production upon the floor of the House, by members of the House.

Didn't Ask Why He Presented It

Mr. Speaker, I am against all trades on margin. That is the purpose of my amendment. Mr. Brigham, before the committee, swore that he had no knowledge of improper agencies used to defeat the anti-bucket shop bill.

Typical Scene Where Men, Women and Children Are Being Massacred in Russia

where a number of witnesses had taken refuge and dragged them from the sanctuary of the altar and defiled the place of worship with blood. Some accounts state that nine women were killed within a few feet of the altar. The victims were tortured and their bodies mutilated. Limbs were chopped off with scythes and eyes gouged out.

DENY ROGERS' GIFT OF $1,000,000 FOR SCIENCE TEMPLE

Lawson Saw Recent Treatment of Market in Story of Oil Magnate's Present.

By Boston American Learned Wire.
New York, June 16.—The report that Mr. H. K. Rogers, of New York, had offered to give $1,000,000 for the Science Temple, a new building to be erected on the site of the old Science Temple, has been denied by Mr. Rogers.

NEWPORT SOCIETY COOK IS DIVORCED

Fannie Dorey, or "Aunt Fanny," Gets Separation Decree from Court.

Newport, R. I., June 16.—The divorce court here today granted a divorce to Fannie Dorey, or "Aunt Fanny," from her husband, John Dorey.

25 FLEE FROM BACK BAY FIRE; FOUR UNCONSCIOUS WHEN RESCUED BY HERO

Four people were rescued from the building after it was 15 minutes on fire. The fire was started by a man who was smoking a cigarette in a room on the third floor.

TWO BOYS AND A FLAG CALL OUT THE FIRE ENGINES IN PATRIOTIC ZEAL, BUT POLICE STOP THE FUN

There was a preliminary excitement of some kind in the afternoon, when two boys and a flag called out the fire engines in patriotic zeal, but the police stopped the fun.

JOHN D.'S GRIP ON PURSE TIGHTENS AS HE SEES FRANCE

Shopkeepers Raise the Price of Gaudette But Oil King Spends Not a Penny.

By William Foster.
Special Contributor of the Boston
News Service in France.
Special Cable to the Boston
American.

YALE TO CONFER DEGREE ON MELLE

New Haven Railroad Chief to Be Signally Honored at Commencement.

New Haven, Conn., June 16.—Yale University today conferred the degree of Doctor of Laws on Mr. J. M. Melle, president of the New Haven Railroad.

600 DEAD IN STRICKEN CITY.

Mob Pursues Girls Into Synagogue and Kills Them in Front of Altar.

CHILDREN DASHED TO DEATH ON PAVEMENTS

Autocracy Urge Czar to Deal
Blow at Once and Crush Revolt at Birth.

LEADERS CALLING ON PEASANTS TO RISE

London, June 16.—The latest reports received at the Foreign Office from Russia indicate a precarious situation throughout the Empire. It is stated that the Bialystok massacres have not been stopped and that at St. Petersburg there is alarm over the situation. It is feared the mob is beyond control, and there will be a general slaughter of Jews in many other places.

The Russian authorities are accused of investigating the Bialystok butchery, in the hope of stemming the revolutionary tide by exciting the fanaticism of the Russian peasantry. Now it is understood that the government fears the atrocities will be the spark which will fire the mine of revolt and plunge Russia into the throes of a reign of terror, unequalled since the French Revolution.

KISHINEFF OUTDOING.

It is believed that hundreds of men, women and children were slain in Bialystok. Victims were tortured and bodies mutilated. It is reported that Kishineff horrors are surpassed. The number of dead is estimated at from 600 upward. It is impossible to obtain accurate information.

It is stated in the latest dispatches that houses have been fired, that murder and pillage are being perpetrated by the light of the victims' burning houses. Thirty blocks in the Jewish quarter have been reduced to ruins.

DUMA IS DEFIANT.

Radicals in the Duma hope to force the Czar to order its dissolution, and perhaps enforce it by sending troops to disperse the members. They say they will meet the mandate with defiance and continue their sittings.

This, it is predicted, would precipitate the expected revolutionary struggle.

The St. Petersburg and Moscow bourgeois indicate, through financial fluctuations, a grave situation. Unrest among workmen signifies a general and strike or preparation.

Continued on Page 35, Column 4.

INDIAN BABY, PRIDE OF WONDERLAND, TO BE NAMED "BOSTON" IN HIB'S HONOR

BLACKBEARD GLAD TO HAVE "BOSTON"

There is a home for the Indian baby, the pride of Wonderland, and it is in the arms of the Boston American. The baby, which was born in the Indian village of the Wonderland, is now in the hands of the Boston American, and it is named "Boston" in honor of the city.

WONDERLAND HORSE NOW WORLD CHALLENGER FOR $1,000 IN TEST OF BRAINS

William H. Barnes, the owner and trainer of Prince Fritz, the beautiful horse, which is the pride of Wonderland, is now challenging the world for a $1,000 test of brains. The horse is now in the hands of the Boston American, and it is named "Boston" in honor of the city.

Every Active Issue Slumps; Holders Rush Wildly to Sell

The evidence that the leading financial men who make markets will encourage more than a slight advance for the present. The demand for a new issue of bonds is now in the hands of the Boston American, and it is named "Boston" in honor of the city.

Report Pleased Speculators. But as every day could not have its little thing, it is probable that in the next few days the market will be more active. The demand for a new issue of bonds is now in the hands of the Boston American, and it is named "Boston" in honor of the city.

Some Enormous Profits. Although enormous profits have been made in both of these issues by traders who were patient enough to hold to what they bought, considerable losses were made by those who were not. The demand for a new issue of bonds is now in the hands of the Boston American, and it is named "Boston" in honor of the city.

Gas Again the Feature. In the general list Massachusetts gas was again the feature of the week's operations. The demand for gas was so large that it was necessary to raise the price. The demand for a new issue of bonds is now in the hands of the Boston American, and it is named "Boston" in honor of the city.

PRESIDENT TO PAY VISIT TO SENATOR CRANE AT DALTON

With His Wife, Is Expected to Spend Week at Mount Pleasant During Summer

It appears well founded that the President and his wife will spend a week at Mount Pleasant during the summer. The President is expected to visit Senator Crane at Dalton. The demand for a new issue of bonds is now in the hands of the Boston American, and it is named "Boston" in honor of the city.

AMBITION, NOT LOVE, DROVE RICH MAN'S SON TO THE ARMY

Charles Rogers Denies That Unrequited Affection for Actress Made Him a Trooper. The son of a rich man, Charles Rogers, has been in the army. He denies that he went to the army because of unrequited love for an actress. The demand for a new issue of bonds is now in the hands of the Boston American, and it is named "Boston" in honor of the city.

Charles Rogers Denies That Unrequited Affection for Actress Made Him a Trooper. The son of a rich man, Charles Rogers, has been in the army. He denies that he went to the army because of unrequited love for an actress. The demand for a new issue of bonds is now in the hands of the Boston American, and it is named "Boston" in honor of the city.

Charles Rogers Denies That Unrequited Affection for Actress Made Him a Trooper. The son of a rich man, Charles Rogers, has been in the army. He denies that he went to the army because of unrequited love for an actress. The demand for a new issue of bonds is now in the hands of the Boston American, and it is named "Boston" in honor of the city.

Charles Rogers Denies That Unrequited Affection for Actress Made Him a Trooper. The son of a rich man, Charles Rogers, has been in the army. He denies that he went to the army because of unrequited love for an actress. The demand for a new issue of bonds is now in the hands of the Boston American, and it is named "Boston" in honor of the city.

Only slight advance. Meanwhile, however, there is little to be done. The demand for a new issue of bonds is now in the hands of the Boston American, and it is named "Boston" in honor of the city.

CORONER STOPS BRONX MURDER SEARCH

Roused at Action of Attorney,
He Calls Police Off Hunt for Evidence.

BLAME CRIME ON TALL
STRANGER SEEN IN HOME

By Boston American Bureau Wire.
New York, June 16.—Edward Schwan, coroner of the Bronx, issued a writ of habeas corpus today for the release of John J. Smith, a man charged with the murder of a woman in the Bronx. Smith had been in custody since June 10, when he was arrested by police officers who were searching for evidence in the case of the murder of a woman in the Bronx. Smith had been in custody since June 10, when he was arrested by police officers who were searching for evidence in the case of the murder of a woman in the Bronx.

Bank Robs in House.
Old Mrs. Stanton, 70, who lives in a small house in the Bronx, was robbed of $100 by a man who entered her house and took the money from her. The man was seen by the woman and she called for help, but no one came. The man was seen by the woman and she called for help, but no one came. The man was seen by the woman and she called for help, but no one came.

Women Prove Murder.
The coroner of the Bronx today announced that the women who lived in the house where a man was found dead, had proved that he was murdered. The coroner said that the women had proved that the man was murdered and that they had found the evidence to prove it.

Mysterious Stranger.
A man who was seen by a woman in the Bronx, was found dead in the street. The woman said that she had seen the man and that he had been with her. The man was found dead in the street and the woman said that she had seen the man and that he had been with her.

ALASKA'S GREAT GOLD YIELD.
The Department of the Interior today announced that the gold yield in Alaska had been the greatest in the history of the state. The department said that the gold yield in Alaska had been the greatest in the history of the state.

THE GREAT AUTO CHASE

CHAPTER LXIV.
The Tenth Cipher.

FRANKIE, who the other night had been seen by the man who was found dead in the street, was seen by the woman who had seen the man. The woman said that she had seen the man and that he had been with her. The man was found dead in the street and the woman said that she had seen the man and that he had been with her.

The man who was seen by the woman in the Bronx, was found dead in the street. The woman said that she had seen the man and that he had been with her. The man was found dead in the street and the woman said that she had seen the man and that he had been with her.

The man who was seen by the woman in the Bronx, was found dead in the street. The woman said that she had seen the man and that he had been with her. The man was found dead in the street and the woman said that she had seen the man and that he had been with her.

THIS WHITE RHINOCEROS WAS CAPTURED NEAR THE LUNPOPO RIVER, IN A MARSH, AND IN ORDER TO SECURE IT AN OLD MALE AND FEMALE HAD TO BE KILLED. ALTHOUGH A YOUNG ANIMAL ITS HIDE IS SAID TO BE IN GREAT FOLDS AND RIDGES, AND ITS EYES TWINKLE SUSPICIOUSLY IN CAVITIES THAT ARE ALMOST LOST IN THE UNDULATIONS OF ITS GREAT HEAD.

WORLD'S COSTLIEST WILD ANIMAL, WHITE
RHINOCEROS, DUE IN BOSTON THIS WEEK

CAPTURED IN JUNGLE AFTER FIERCE BATTLE

It is believed that the costliest wild animal in the world will be exhibited in Boston this week. It is a white rhinoceros, and cost $15,000. It was captured near the Lunpopo River, in a marsh, and in order to secure it an old male and female had to be killed. Although a young animal its hide is said to be in great folds and ridges, and its eyes twinkle suspiciously in cavities that are almost lost in the undulations of its great head.

TWO SPECIMENS OF RHINOCEROS IN BARNUM & BAILEY CIRCUUS.

Bank Robs in House.
Old Mrs. Stanton, 70, who lives in a small house in the Bronx, was robbed of $100 by a man who entered her house and took the money from her. The man was seen by the woman and she called for help, but no one came. The man was seen by the woman and she called for help, but no one came.

Women Prove Murder.
The coroner of the Bronx today announced that the women who lived in the house where a man was found dead, had proved that he was murdered. The coroner said that the women had proved that the man was murdered and that they had found the evidence to prove it.

Mysterious Stranger.
A man who was seen by a woman in the Bronx, was found dead in the street. The woman said that she had seen the man and that he had been with her. The man was found dead in the street and the woman said that she had seen the man and that he had been with her.

ALASKA'S GREAT GOLD YIELD.
The Department of the Interior today announced that the gold yield in Alaska had been the greatest in the history of the state. The department said that the gold yield in Alaska had been the greatest in the history of the state.

THE GREAT AUTO CHASE

CHAPTER LXIV.
The Tenth Cipher.

FRANKIE, who the other night had been seen by the man who was found dead in the street, was seen by the woman who had seen the man. The woman said that she had seen the man and that he had been with her. The man was found dead in the street and the woman said that she had seen the man and that he had been with her.

The man who was seen by the woman in the Bronx, was found dead in the street. The woman said that she had seen the man and that he had been with her. The man was found dead in the street and the woman said that she had seen the man and that he had been with her.

The man who was seen by the woman in the Bronx, was found dead in the street. The woman said that she had seen the man and that he had been with her. The man was found dead in the street and the woman said that she had seen the man and that he had been with her.

come and shipping it to America would be about $2,500.

As the ship was now afloat and ready to receive the animal, the captain of the ship, Mr. J. J. Morgan, was informed of the capture of the rhinoceros. He was informed that the rhinoceros had been captured near the Lunpopo River, in a marsh, and in order to secure it an old male and female had to be killed. Although a young animal its hide is said to be in great folds and ridges, and its eyes twinkle suspiciously in cavities that are almost lost in the undulations of its great head.

WOMAN ACCUSER OF MORGANS INSANE

New York, June 16.—Mrs. Ellen H. Morgan, the English woman who threatened to sue J. J. Morgan, the captain of the ship, for the capture of the rhinoceros, today declared that she was insane. She said that she was insane and that she was not responsible for her actions. She said that she was insane and that she was not responsible for her actions.

Auto Prize Winners,
For Week of June 10

Special prize, $500—G. R. Starkey, No. 82 Munroe street, Roxbury.
First prize, $25—Miss Nellie Collins, No. 82 Central avenue, South Braintree.
Second prize, $10—George Martin, South Boston.
Third prize, $5—Harry Morris, No. 35 Gainsboro street, Boston.
Fourth prize, $5—Miss Bertha Rafferty, No. 2 Bondland street, Worcester.
Fifth prize, $5—Fred McEachern, No. 44 Maywood street, Roxbury.

What It Means to Buy
Callahan Home Whiskey

Absolute purity, faultless quality, exquisite flavor.
Uniform strength, delightful smoothness, freedom from harshness.
Perfect maturity, careful aging, money back guarantee.
The purest form of whiskey that can be distilled and the best whiskey possible to produce at any price, and equal to no other whiskey at double the price.

John F. Callahan & Co.,
DISTILLERS AND BLENDEES,
154-156 Federal St., Boston, Mass.
Graduated and Dun's Mercantile Agencies or the National Shawmut Bank of Boston will tell you that we are an old reliable firm.

TRANSPORT HIT A MINUTE: 51 KILLED.

Frightful Havoc Wrought When Japanese Warship Encounters Floating Explosive.

TOYO TOMAMI BLOWN TO PIECES ON HIGH SEA

Special Cable to Sunday American.
Tokio, June 17.—It is now certain that the casualties resulting from the destruction of the transport Toyo Tomami were fifty-one. All of the remainder of the crew declare that there is no hope that the missing men are still alive. The transport struck a floating mine off Yokohama, Japan, during the night of June 16, and was blown to pieces on the high sea.

WOMAN ACCUSER OF MORGANS INSANE

New York, June 16.—Mrs. Ellen H. Morgan, the English woman who threatened to sue J. J. Morgan, the captain of the ship, for the capture of the rhinoceros, today declared that she was insane. She said that she was insane and that she was not responsible for her actions. She said that she was insane and that she was not responsible for her actions.

Auto Prize Winners,
For Week of June 10

Special prize, $500—G. R. Starkey, No. 82 Munroe street, Roxbury.
First prize, $25—Miss Nellie Collins, No. 82 Central avenue, South Braintree.
Second prize, $10—George Martin, South Boston.
Third prize, $5—Harry Morris, No. 35 Gainsboro street, Boston.
Fourth prize, $5—Miss Bertha Rafferty, No. 2 Bondland street, Worcester.
Fifth prize, $5—Fred McEachern, No. 44 Maywood street, Roxbury.

What It Means to Buy
Callahan Home Whiskey

Absolute purity, faultless quality, exquisite flavor.
Uniform strength, delightful smoothness, freedom from harshness.
Perfect maturity, careful aging, money back guarantee.
The purest form of whiskey that can be distilled and the best whiskey possible to produce at any price, and equal to no other whiskey at double the price.

John F. Callahan & Co.,
DISTILLERS AND BLENDEES,
154-156 Federal St., Boston, Mass.
Graduated and Dun's Mercantile Agencies or the National Shawmut Bank of Boston will tell you that we are an old reliable firm.

$1,000 in Prizes.

"THE GREAT AUTO CHASE."

In the BOSTON SUNDAY AMERICAN today is the tenth cipher in "The Great Auto Chase," the thrilling story of mystery which has enthralled thousands of readers since it began.

In the cipher today, as in those of the past nine Sundays, a clue is given to the whereabouts of the thieves who stole the great diamond, "The Green Blaze," and who are eluding the police in their pursuit.

On a day and at a time and place indicated by the clues published each Sunday, the mysterious auto will appear. If you read the clues right and are at the proper place at the time appointed, simply HOLD UP THAT PART OF THE SUNDAY AMERICAN WHICH CONTAINS THE STORY, and the auto will stop. A representative of the BOSTON AMERICAN will hand to the first person he sees at the proper place, holding up a paper, a cash prize of $50.

ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS WILL BE GIVEN AWAY EACH WEEK, AS FOLLOWS:

$50 to the person who stops the Mysterious Auto first.
$25 to the first person who, unable to be present at the spot indicated, writes briefly before MONDAY AT NOON a solution of the clue.
$10 to the second person who writes correctly.
$5 to the third. $5 to the fourth. $5 to the fifth.

Read the Story Today, Try for a Prize To-morrow. Address all communications to the Prize Story Editor, BOSTON AMERICAN, No. 80 Summer street, Boston.

LAST CIPHER TO-DAY IN "AUTO CHASE" MYSTERY

Today the BOSTON SUNDAY AMERICAN publishes the last cipher in the "Great Auto Chase" mystery. The cipher is the tenth in the series, and it is the last one that will be published in the paper.

As was announced at the beginning of the series, the BOSTON SUNDAY AMERICAN agreed to distribute $1,000 a week in prizes to the person who first solves the mystery of the "Great Auto Chase." The prize is a cash prize of $1,000, and it is the last one that will be published in the paper.

As was announced at the beginning of the series, the BOSTON SUNDAY AMERICAN agreed to distribute $1,000 a week in prizes to the person who first solves the mystery of the "Great Auto Chase." The prize is a cash prize of $1,000, and it is the last one that will be published in the paper.

As was announced at the beginning of the series, the BOSTON SUNDAY AMERICAN agreed to distribute $1,000 a week in prizes to the person who first solves the mystery of the "Great Auto Chase." The prize is a cash prize of $1,000, and it is the last one that will be published in the paper.

THE AMERICAN

CL

WILL SEND
A 36-PAGE
BOOK
TO EVERY ONE WHO NEEDS AN ENCYCLOPEDIA

The Free Book Contains:

Beautiful Duogravure Portraits of the Emperors of Russia and the Mikado of Japan.

Large Maps of China, Japan, Korea and the Panama Canal.

Map of New York City Showing Street and Ferry Routes.

Interesting Views of New York City and the Suez Canal.

Colored Plates Showing Animals, Plants, Etc.

Many Interesting Pages of Reading.

Why We Make This Offer

This interesting book is designed to acquaint you with the American Co-operative Encyclopedia Club. So many people have been unable to purchase a first-class Encyclopedia, owing to publishers' high prices, that arrangements have been made by the American Club to supply them with the newest and best reference library on the market at wholesale prices and on very easy terms of payment.

The Encyclopedia selected for this co-operative enterprise is the newest and best general reference work ever published. It contains 300,000 topics and 55,000 complete articles; yet so thoroughly has the work been prepared that it is all geared to be strong and durable volumes, which contain 8,500 pages, 3,000 illustrations and 150 colored maps. This Encyclopedia was prepared by the world's ablest scholars and specialists. It is designed specially for the home, for busy men and women and for students of all ages.

Club Now Closing

The free book which is being distributed among American readers consists of a number of pages selected from the Encyclopedia, which have been bound up so as to show exactly what the work is. Those who are interested should mail the attached coupon at once, as the club is now closing and the offer will be definitely withdrawn almost immediately.

Mail This Coupon Today

ENCYCLOPEDIA DEPT.,
80-82 Summer Street, Boston.

Please send me, without charge, the Free Book, you offer, together with particulars of your Co-operative Encyclopedia Club (U.S.A. 61746).

NAME

STREET

CITY

OCCUPATION

BUSINESS ADDRESS

HEARST'S BOSTON AMERICAN

CHANCE OF DEPOSED

Probable That Prince Luitpold Will Succeed Otto, Who Lives Like Beast.

MONARCH PERMITS NONE TO APPROACH HIM

Special Cable to the Boston Sunday American.
Vienna, June 16.—It is well known that Prince Luitpold of Bavaria will be deposed in the near future. During Prince Luitpold's recent visit to Vienna he has been depicted in a caricature as being so devoted to the study of ending the security of Bavaria being ruled in the name of an emperor, that he has been depicted as a monster, and the Austrian courtiers approved the caricature, and the Austrian courtiers approved the caricature, and the Austrian courtiers approved the caricature.

SILENCE CURE FOR NERVOUS WOMEN

English Doctors to Get Them to Be Quiet Also Say It Will Delay Wrinkles.

Special Cable to the Boston Sunday American.
London, June 16.—The silence cure is now prescribed for nervous women. It consists in getting quiet and not doing anything, and the patient is not to utter a word. The cure is now prescribed for nervous women. It consists in getting quiet and not doing anything, and the patient is not to utter a word. The cure is now prescribed for nervous women. It consists in getting quiet and not doing anything, and the patient is not to utter a word.

NEARING SUMMIT OF AFRICAN PEAK

Rome, June 16.—A telegram from Central Africa says that the expedition of Abruzzi, the purpose of which is to make an ascent of Mount Ruwenzori, between Albert Nyanza and Albert Edward Nyanza, is making good progress, although the expedition is now on account of illness of the expedition leader, who has reached a summit of 15,000 feet above the sea level. The expedition is now on account of illness of the expedition leader, who has reached a summit of 15,000 feet above the sea level.

SALVATION ARMY TO AID LONDON'S POOR

London, June 16.—The Salvation Army, with a view to relieving the crowded districts of the East End of London, is planning to establish a relief station, to accommodate the poor, and the Salvation Army, with a view to relieving the crowded districts of the East End of London, is planning to establish a relief station, to accommodate the poor, and the Salvation Army, with a view to relieving the crowded districts of the East End of London, is planning to establish a relief station, to accommodate the poor.

GUATEMALA REBELS GAINING STRENGTH

Mexico City, June 16.—The Guatemalan rebels claim that they have been daily augmenting and that General Toledo will in a few days have a triumph over the rebels. The Guatemalan rebels claim that they have been daily augmenting and that General Toledo will in a few days have a triumph over the rebels. The Guatemalan rebels claim that they have been daily augmenting and that General Toledo will in a few days have a triumph over the rebels.

FIRST 'RIGHT TO AIM' DUEL IN MANY YEARS

Special Cable to the Boston Sunday American.
Paris, June 16.—A duel took place in Paris, the first of the kind since the duel between the Duke of Orleans and the Duke of Orleans. The duel took place in Paris, the first of the kind since the duel between the Duke of Orleans and the Duke of Orleans. The duel took place in Paris, the first of the kind since the duel between the Duke of Orleans and the Duke of Orleans.

JUSTICE SOON FOR CAPTAIN DEFEUS

Formal Declaration of His Innocence Expected from French Court.

DECISION LOOKED FOR AT END OF THE MONTH

Special Cable to the Boston Sunday American.
Paris, June 16.—Justice is expected for Captain DeFeus, who was accused of the murder of the Duke of Orleans. The French court is expected to make a formal declaration of his innocence at the end of the month. The French court is expected to make a formal declaration of his innocence at the end of the month. The French court is expected to make a formal declaration of his innocence at the end of the month.

COSSIP OVER ROYAL BAN ON NOTED BEAUTY

Refusal to Receive Divorce Is Following Out Victoria's Precedent.

Special Cable to the Boston Sunday American.
London, June 16.—London gossip is rife with the story of the refusal of the Queen to receive the divorce of the Duke of Devonshire. The Queen is expected to follow the precedent of Queen Victoria, who refused to receive the divorce of the Duke of Devonshire. The Queen is expected to follow the precedent of Queen Victoria, who refused to receive the divorce of the Duke of Devonshire.

$250,000 WORTH OF ORGANS EXHIBITED

Extraordinary Precautions Are Taken to Protect Precious Plants From Thieves.

BRAZIL HONORS DEAD FRENCHMAN

Rio Janeiro, June 16.—Colonel Negre, the French military instructor who died in Brazil, is being honored by the Brazilian government. The Brazilian government is planning to erect a monument to Colonel Negre, who died in Brazil. The Brazilian government is planning to erect a monument to Colonel Negre, who died in Brazil.

HUNGARY MENACED BY SERIOUS STRIKE

Special Cable to the Boston Sunday American.
Budapest, June 16.—Hungary is threatened by a general strike, which will bring the country to a standstill. The Hungarian government is planning to take measures to prevent the strike. The Hungarian government is planning to take measures to prevent the strike.

KING JA JA OF OPOBO LIVES ON IN BRONZE

Glasgow, June 16.—The only monument to King Ja Ja of Opo, who was killed in the Opo rebellion, is now being erected in Glasgow. The monument is made of bronze and is a statue of King Ja Ja. The monument is made of bronze and is a statue of King Ja Ja.

NANNIE SHAW ASTOR BARRED FROM COURT BY QUEEN, TO QUIT ENGLAND

Refusal to Receive Divorce Is Following Out Victoria's Precedent.

Special Cable to the Boston Sunday American.
London, June 16.—London gossip is rife with the story of the refusal of the Queen to receive the divorce of the Duke of Devonshire. The Queen is expected to follow the precedent of Queen Victoria, who refused to receive the divorce of the Duke of Devonshire. The Queen is expected to follow the precedent of Queen Victoria, who refused to receive the divorce of the Duke of Devonshire.

MRS. NANNIE LANGHORNE SHAW ASTOR.

Special Cable to the Boston Sunday American.
London, June 16.—Nannie Shaw Astor, who was the first wife of John Jacob Astor, is now living in London. She is the daughter of a wealthy family and is known for her beauty and her social position. She is the daughter of a wealthy family and is known for her beauty and her social position.

THE J. B. COOK PIANO CO.

Entire Stock of Pianos and Organs for Sale.

Every piano must be sold; no pianos will be removed from here into our new building. All must go at some price while they last. Cash or monthly payments.

It was our intention to remain at our present location, but owing to a rapidly increasing wholesale and retail business our two floors do not give us nearly room enough, so we will take a building giving us several additional floors. We have only a very limited time to dispose of our immense stock of high-grade instruments, consequently we are driven to drastic measures to clean out the entire lot. The prices are the lowest ever placed on such fine pianos, just to give you an idea of the slaughter in prices, we quote the following:

SALE STARTS TUESDAY, JUNE 19th

A Piano selling at $175 will go for..... $ 95	A Piano selling at $275 will go for..... $190
A Piano selling at $200 will go for..... 118	A Piano selling at $300 will go for..... 198
A Piano selling at $250 will go for..... 185	A Piano selling at $350 will go for..... 235
A Piano selling at $400 will go for..... $265

IRISH NATIONALISTS LOSE STAUNCH SUPPORTER IN DEATH OF PATRICK DOOGAN

Refusal to Receive Divorce Is Following Out Victoria's Precedent.

Special Cable to the Boston Sunday American.
Dublin, June 16.—Patrick Doogan, a staunch supporter of the Irish Nationalists, has died. He was a member of the Irish Nationalist party and was known for his loyalty to the cause. He was a member of the Irish Nationalist party and was known for his loyalty to the cause.

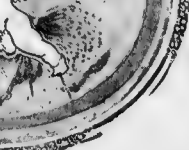

PATRICK DOOGAN.

Special Cable to the Boston Sunday American.
Dublin, June 16.—Patrick Doogan, a staunch supporter of the Irish Nationalists, has died. He was a member of the Irish Nationalist party and was known for his loyalty to the cause. He was a member of the Irish Nationalist party and was known for his loyalty to the cause.

WARM WELCOME TO LADY WATERLOW

Former Miss Hamilton of San Francisco Returns to London.

Special Cable to the Boston Sunday American.
London, June 16.—Lady Waterlow, former Miss Hamilton of San Francisco, has returned to London. She is a member of the Irish Nationalist party and is known for her loyalty to the cause. She is a member of the Irish Nationalist party and is known for her loyalty to the cause.

LADY WATERLOW.

Special Cable to the Boston Sunday American.
London, June 16.—Lady Waterlow, former Miss Hamilton of San Francisco, has returned to London. She is a member of the Irish Nationalist party and is known for her loyalty to the cause. She is a member of the Irish Nationalist party and is known for her loyalty to the cause.

IRISH CAUSE LOSES ANOTHER NOTED LEADER.

Dublin, June 16.—Following closely on the death of Michael Davitt came the death of Patrick Doogan, a staunch supporter of the Irish Nationalists. He was a member of the Irish Nationalist party and was known for his loyalty to the cause. He was a member of the Irish Nationalist party and was known for his loyalty to the cause.

Special Cable to the Boston Sunday American.
Dublin, June 16.—Patrick Doogan, a staunch supporter of the Irish Nationalists, has died. He was a member of the Irish Nationalist party and was known for his loyalty to the cause. He was a member of the Irish Nationalist party and was known for his loyalty to the cause.

Special Cable to the Boston Sunday American.
Dublin, June 16.—Patrick Doogan, a staunch supporter of the Irish Nationalists, has died. He was a member of the Irish Nationalist party and was known for his loyalty to the cause. He was a member of the Irish Nationalist party and was known for his loyalty to the cause.

Special Cable to the Boston Sunday American.
Dublin, June 16.—Patrick Doogan, a staunch supporter of the Irish Nationalists, has died. He was a member of the Irish Nationalist party and was known for his loyalty to the cause. He was a member of the Irish Nationalist party and was known for his loyalty to the cause.

PETE OF SERBIA GIVES MARCONI A PRESS MONOPOLY.

Newspapers Declare King Has Returned From Switzerland a Criminal.

Special Cable to the Boston Sunday American.
Belgrade, June 16.—King Peter of Serbia has given Marconi a press monopoly. This means that Marconi will have the exclusive right to transmit news from the king. This means that Marconi will have the exclusive right to transmit news from the king.

KING PETER OF SERBIA.

Special Cable to the Boston Sunday American.
Belgrade, June 16.—King Peter of Serbia has given Marconi a press monopoly. This means that Marconi will have the exclusive right to transmit news from the king. This means that Marconi will have the exclusive right to transmit news from the king.

ENGLAND'S LAST KING, SAYS EDWARD

Remark Attributed to Him in Comment on Liberal-Labor Victories.

Special Cable to the Boston Sunday American.
London, June 16.—King Edward has made a remark in a comment on the Liberal-Labor victories. He said that he was the last king of England. He said that he was the last king of England.

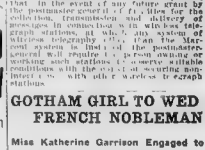

Special Cable to the Boston Sunday American.
London, June 16.—King Edward has made a remark in a comment on the Liberal-Labor victories. He said that he was the last king of England. He said that he was the last king of England.

Special Cable to the Boston Sunday American.
London, June 16.—King Edward has made a remark in a comment on the Liberal-Labor victories. He said that he was the last king of England. He said that he was the last king of England.

NATIONAL INTEREST SACRIFICED BY BRITISH POSTOFFICE IN AGREEMENT WITH COMPANIES.

Service Arrangement With North America.

Special Cable to the Boston Sunday American.
London, June 16.—The British Postoffice has made an agreement with the companies to provide service to North America. This agreement is expected to result in a more efficient service to North America. This agreement is expected to result in a more efficient service to North America.

MAN RELATED TO POSTOFFICE AGREEMENT.

Special Cable to the Boston Sunday American.
London, June 16.—The British Postoffice has made an agreement with the companies to provide service to North America. This agreement is expected to result in a more efficient service to North America. This agreement is expected to result in a more efficient service to North America.

OURING SOAP

For preserving, purifying, and beautifying the skin, scalp, hair, and hands, for irritations of the skin, heat, rash, tan, sunburn, bites and stings of insects, for soreness and soreness incidental to summer sports, for sanative, antiseptic cleansing, and for all the purposes of the toilet and bath Cuticura Soap, assisted by Cuticura Ointment, is priceless.

For preserving, purifying, and beautifying the skin, scalp, hair, and hands, for irritations of the skin, heat, rash, tan, sunburn, bites and stings of insects, for soreness and soreness incidental to summer sports, for sanative, antiseptic cleansing, and for all the purposes of the toilet and bath Cuticura Soap, assisted by Cuticura Ointment, is priceless.

For preserving, purifying, and beautifying the skin, scalp, hair, and hands, for irritations of the skin, heat, rash, tan, sunburn, bites and stings of insects, for soreness and soreness incidental to summer sports, for sanative, antiseptic cleansing, and for all the purposes of the toilet and bath Cuticura Soap, assisted by Cuticura Ointment, is priceless.

DAY STATE A. A. members off on outing to Rye Beach.

BRETTON WOODS
local auto tour will begin July 25.

AMERICAN tennis players beaten in Davis Cup tourney.

Locomobile
A FEW 1906 MODELS
For Prompt Delivery

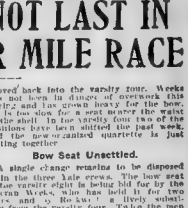

Also several 1905 Locomobiles on sale, at reasonable prices for account of our 1906 customers. These cars, thoroughly overhauled and guaranteed by us, will appeal to intelligent buyers.

THE Locomobile CO. OF AMERICA
15 BERKELEY STREET
K. M. BLAKE, Supt.
Member Assn. Licensed Auto Mfrs.

CYCLING

VARSAITY

Bow Seat Unsettled.

days since they came here. At present he is back in his old place, but it is much to predict that he will keep it. The Yale eight has not been in physical condition good enough to be sent full for the four miles yet. They have tried the distance twice since their arrival, but could not yet have done two or three miles.

the course was fully half a minute longer than that of the Yale variety. Although the Harvard sprinter showed a fierce head start, the time taken to complete the mile was only 10 seconds longer than that of the Yale variety. The time taken to complete the mile was only 10 seconds longer than that of the Yale variety. The time taken to complete the mile was only 10 seconds longer than that of the Yale variety.

The Money Send Races

[illegible]

GRAVESEND ENTRIES.

GRAVESEND RACE TRACK, June 18.—
The entries for Monday's races follow:
FIRST RACE—All ages, handicap, about six furlongs.

1st	1401 Comedienne	375
2d	1402 Bohemia	375

... 127 Diamond Funs	80
... 131 Belle of Portland	80
MALE AND RACE —Three-year-olds and up, selling
... male and a quarter
... 91 Paleta	94
... 104 Sister	109
... 104 Elm Ridge	104
... 104	104
... 104 James Redick	104
... 109	109
FEMALE RACE —Three-year-olds and up which have not yet started meeting, headless, one mile of a steeple.
... 118 Far West	119
... 114 Welburne	108
... The Queen	108
... of Pezard	110
FOURTH RACE —The Artist, fillies, two years old, to carry 114 pounds, five furlongs:

[illegible]

Every Woman is interested and should know about the wonderful MARVEL Whirling Spray for new vaginal sprays, infection and douches, heat—heat—heat—Neat Convenient.

your druggist for it,
we cannot supply the 1897 E. A. secured in city, but send stamp for unmarked book—marked. It gives the contents and directions for use in Latin. WALKER CO.,
6 E. 2nd St., ST. LOUIS, MO.

For sale by FRANKLIN (rubber) 4-cent, 15¢ number 1, Boston, Mass. LOUIS & CO. 112 22nd St., Washington, D. C., and 134 Portland St., Providence,
R. I., 27 Bay St., New York, N. Y., and 152 1/2
Washington St., NEW HAVEN, CT.

Old Remedy. New Form.
NEVER KNOWN TO FAIL.
TARRANT'S Extract of Cubebs and Copaiba to

The Lauchlin, quick and thorough for sale, in good condition, and with the latest motor, hydraulic convenient to carry. Fifty years success in use. Price $1,000, or as agreed, or by $1,000. See Lauchlin Co., 100 Hudson St., New York

CHICHESTER'S PILLS

Original and Only Genuine.
B.P.N. Always reliable. Ladies and Druggists
CHICHESTER'S PILLS FOR ENGLAND is B.P.N. and quality, because, when, used with most pains. Take no others. No Dangerous Substitutions and Imitations. And, as your agent, we will send stamp for Particulars, or send a coin and Newsletter for London, in letter, by our Black & White, or contains full by Druggist, Chichester.

P. Those suffering from weakness who say the weakness is in the blood and nerves, the will tell a story of marvelous results. The medicine has more regenerating, vitalizing force than has ever been used, sent by mail in plain package only on top of this ad, and $1.
Write by its originator, C. F. Reed Co., proprietors of Reed's Hemaphys, Lowell, Mass.

GLIDDEN: STRICT RULES FOR THE TOUR VANDERBILT

BAY STATE A. A. ANNUAL TOUR TO BRETON WOODS WILL BEGIN JULY 25

PAGE OF AUTO NEWS
Edited by J. C. Kerrison

NEW LAWS: MOTORISTS MUST LOOK OUT FOR TROUBLE NOTES

BY J. C. KERRISON.

The second annual White Mountain tour of the Bay State Automobile Association will start July 25 and continue for a period of seven or eight days. This tour is by no means to be considered as being in opposition to the Glidden tour. It is rather a pleasure tour, as was the case last year.

Chairman Glidden of the touring committee of the club, who conducted the successful affair of a year ago, will have the same tour in charge, which means a success from start to finish.

Real Pleasure Trip.
The tour is to be a pleasure trip in every sense of the word. There is to be nothing in the nature of competition, a though each participant in the same will receive a souvenir and a certificate in case his car makes the entire trip. All competitive features will be eliminated. The only strenuous placed on the participants is that no car shall leave the morning's starting point before 8 o'clock in the morning, and that all cars including in racing will be disqualified and their owners or operators brought before the board of governors of the club on a charge of conduct prejudicial to the association.

This entire country as it does towards the close of the Glidden tour, will give the local motorists an opportunity of visiting Breton Woods and re-entraining the tired tourists as their return from Exeter, N. H., and the same policy as was followed on a year ago when the local organization called a club run to that point, starting the same day that the Glidden party left Boston. That same day the Glidden tour, Chairman Glidden of the club, who conducted the successful affair of a year ago, will have the same tour in charge, which means a success from start to finish.

Dealers Have Big Expenses

"Most people seem to think that the profits in the retail automobile business are enormous, and appear to think that we should be rolling in wealth. It would surprise some of them to know just how little there really is in it when a dealer comes to be struck by the P. A. A. Glidden of the White Mountain tour, the commission on a car is 20 per cent, on a car for instance, $100 a $1000. Now, what a lot of money they will receive, even stopping in to think that there are expenses of every kind to set aside against this lump sum—expenses entirely separate from the ordinary fixed charges, such as rent, interest, repairs expressed his willingness and pleasure that the tour should be held. Another factor in the Glidden tour is the fact that the tour starts the big event will be on the last three days. The intention is to get the local party in Breton Woods the day prior to the arrival of the long-distance tourists, and the following day to go out on the roads and meet the Glidden party back to the base of operations.

Will Leave Hub July 25.
The idea of a party shall leave Boston on July 25, spend the night either at Rye Beach or Westport, and the following day continue to Breton Woods, arriving at intervals for the noon meal and for the afternoon picnic. The participants would be called to assemble at the club at their trip of welcome to the long-distance drivers. That evening a big ball will be held in the ballroom of Hotel Stuart.

Washington, Monday will come the bill, climbing out, followed on Tuesday by automobile contests which would prove of interest to every one, and in the evening a place as to be situated easily near and sign of all visitors to the mountains. The start on the return home will be made the following Wednesday. The trip will be made from Breton Woods to Portland. In this latter city arrangements for the trip back to Boston and home, the entire being completed on Friday evening. The trip has not yet been decided upon. They will, however, be decided upon. The New York Motor Club has advised a desire to co-operate with the local organization.

tion in the outfit, and it is understood that the tour and tour committee of that club will hold a two-day run to Boston, in order that the members may arrive in season to join the Bay State Association in its tour.

There is considerable discussion in trade circles of late on the subject of the "rear axle car," an automobile in which the rear axle is a transmission in a mechanical sense—that is, it is not an axle in the proper sense of the word, but a transmission in the life of every car, and it is a very expensive one as well as a very difficult one to make and which is very difficult to adjust.

There is considerable discussion in trade circles of late on the subject of the "rear axle car," an automobile in which the rear axle is a transmission in a mechanical sense—that is, it is not an axle in the proper sense of the word, but a transmission in the life of every car, and it is a very expensive one as well as a very difficult one to make and which is very difficult to adjust.

There is considerable discussion in trade circles of late on the subject of the "rear axle car," an automobile in which the rear axle is a transmission in a mechanical sense—that is, it is not an axle in the proper sense of the word, but a transmission in the life of every car, and it is a very expensive one as well as a very difficult one to make and which is very difficult to adjust.

There is considerable discussion in trade circles of late on the subject of the "rear axle car," an automobile in which the rear axle is a transmission in a mechanical sense—that is, it is not an axle in the proper sense of the word, but a transmission in the life of every car, and it is a very expensive one as well as a very difficult one to make and which is very difficult to adjust.

There is considerable discussion in trade circles of late on the subject of the "rear axle car," an automobile in which the rear axle is a transmission in a mechanical sense—that is, it is not an axle in the proper sense of the word, but a transmission in the life of every car, and it is a very expensive one as well as a very difficult one to make and which is very difficult to adjust.

There is considerable discussion in trade circles of late on the subject of the "rear axle car," an automobile in which the rear axle is a transmission in a mechanical sense—that is, it is not an axle in the proper sense of the word, but a transmission in the life of every car, and it is a very expensive one as well as a very difficult one to make and which is very difficult to adjust.

There is considerable discussion in trade circles of late on the subject of the "rear axle car," an automobile in which the rear axle is a transmission in a mechanical sense—that is, it is not an axle in the proper sense of the word, but a transmission in the life of every car, and it is a very expensive one as well as a very difficult one to make and which is very difficult to adjust.

There is considerable discussion in trade circles of late on the subject of the "rear axle car," an automobile in which the rear axle is a transmission in a mechanical sense—that is, it is not an axle in the proper sense of the word, but a transmission in the life of every car, and it is a very expensive one as well as a very difficult one to make and which is very difficult to adjust.

There is considerable discussion in trade circles of late on the subject of the "rear axle car," an automobile in which the rear axle is a transmission in a mechanical sense—that is, it is not an axle in the proper sense of the word, but a transmission in the life of every car, and it is a very expensive one as well as a very difficult one to make and which is very difficult to adjust.

There is considerable discussion in trade circles of late on the subject of the "rear axle car," an automobile in which the rear axle is a transmission in a mechanical sense—that is, it is not an axle in the proper sense of the word, but a transmission in the life of every car, and it is a very expensive one as well as a very difficult one to make and which is very difficult to adjust.

There is considerable discussion in trade circles of late on the subject of the "rear axle car," an automobile in which the rear axle is a transmission in a mechanical sense—that is, it is not an axle in the proper sense of the word, but a transmission in the life of every car, and it is a very expensive one as well as a very difficult one to make and which is very difficult to adjust.

There is considerable discussion in trade circles of late on the subject of the "rear axle car," an automobile in which the rear axle is a transmission in a mechanical sense—that is, it is not an axle in the proper sense of the word, but a transmission in the life of every car, and it is a very expensive one as well as a very difficult one to make and which is very difficult to adjust.

There is considerable discussion in trade circles of late on the subject of the "rear axle car," an automobile in which the rear axle is a transmission in a mechanical sense—that is, it is not an axle in the proper sense of the word, but a transmission in the life of every car, and it is a very expensive one as well as a very difficult one to make and which is very difficult to adjust.

There is considerable discussion in trade circles of late on the subject of the "rear axle car," an automobile in which the rear axle is a transmission in a mechanical sense—that is, it is not an axle in the proper sense of the word, but a transmission in the life of every car, and it is a very expensive one as well as a very difficult one to make and which is very difficult to adjust.

AMERICAN INDIANS TAKING A SPIN WITH A POPE-TOLEDO

Blake May Be in Vanderbilt Cup Race

After all that has been said and done here now comes from Hightop that the Leocomobile Company of America, which constructed the racing machine that finished third in the last Vanderbilt, is again to try its fortune in that line. Earlier in the year said a statement was published. Later it was denied. Now comes the rumor that the company is building two machines especially for this contest. Further it is understood that Joe Tracy, who drove one of these several drivers are under consideration for the other car.

Among the best and most noted operators of cars now contracted with this company is Kenneth M. Blake, its local manager. He is a daring operator, and has had no small amount of experience. He knows the car most thoroughly. The experience he secured abroad, competing in international events, should make him a most valuable man to have on the matter.

When asked about the matter yesterday Mr. Blake said he knew nothing regarding the construction of racing cars, and further more he was not particularly anxious to drive one on the Vanderbilt course. Still, if he was selected he would do his best.

Says Planetary Gear Is Only Mechanical Type

Henry Ford Has Incorporated It in His Celebrated Six-Cylinder Motor Cars.

There is considerable discussion in trade circles of late on the subject of the "rear axle car," an automobile in which the rear axle is a transmission in a mechanical sense—that is, it is not an axle in the proper sense of the word, but a transmission in the life of every car, and it is a very expensive one as well as a very difficult one to make and which is very difficult to adjust.

There is considerable discussion in trade circles of late on the subject of the "rear axle car," an automobile in which the rear axle is a transmission in a mechanical sense—that is, it is not an axle in the proper sense of the word, but a transmission in the life of every car, and it is a very expensive one as well as a very difficult one to make and which is very difficult to adjust.

There is considerable discussion in trade circles of late on the subject of the "rear axle car," an automobile in which the rear axle is a transmission in a mechanical sense—that is, it is not an axle in the proper sense of the word, but a transmission in the life of every car, and it is a very expensive one as well as a very difficult one to make and which is very difficult to adjust.

There is considerable discussion in trade circles of late on the subject of the "rear axle car," an automobile in which the rear axle is a transmission in a mechanical sense—that is, it is not an axle in the proper sense of the word, but a transmission in the life of every car, and it is a very expensive one as well as a very difficult one to make and which is very difficult to adjust.

There is considerable discussion in trade circles of late on the subject of the "rear axle car," an automobile in which the rear axle is a transmission in a mechanical sense—that is, it is not an axle in the proper sense of the word, but a transmission in the life of every car, and it is a very expensive one as well as a very difficult one to make and which is very difficult to adjust.

There is considerable discussion in trade circles of late on the subject of the "rear axle car," an automobile in which the rear axle is a transmission in a mechanical sense—that is, it is not an axle in the proper sense of the word, but a transmission in the life of every car, and it is a very expensive one as well as a very difficult one to make and which is very difficult to adjust.

There is considerable discussion in trade circles of late on the subject of the "rear axle car," an automobile in which the rear axle is a transmission in a mechanical sense—that is, it is not an axle in the proper sense of the word, but a transmission in the life of every car, and it is a very expensive one as well as a very difficult one to make and which is very difficult to adjust.

There is considerable discussion in trade circles of late on the subject of the "rear axle car," an automobile in which the rear axle is a transmission in a mechanical sense—that is, it is not an axle in the proper sense of the word, but a transmission in the life of every car, and it is a very expensive one as well as a very difficult one to make and which is very difficult to adjust.

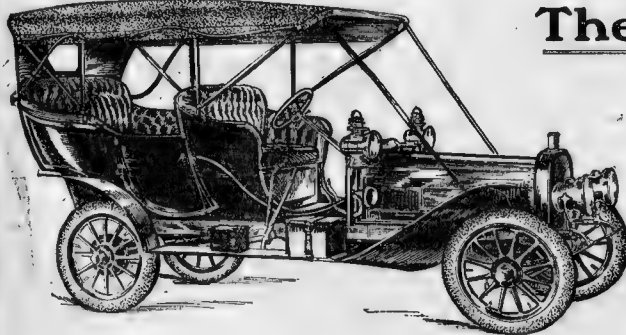

There is considerable discussion in trade circles of late on the subject of the "rear axle car," an automobile in which the rear axle is a transmission in a mechanical sense—that is, it is not an axle in the proper sense of the word, but a transmission in the life of every car, and it is a very expensive one as well as a very difficult one to make and which is very difficult to adjust.

There is considerable discussion in trade circles of late on the subject of the "rear axle car," an automobile in which the rear axle is a transmission in a mechanical sense—that is, it is not an axle in the proper sense of the word, but a transmission in the life of every car, and it is a very expensive one as well as a very difficult one to make and which is very difficult to adjust.

There is considerable discussion in trade circles of late on the subject of the "rear axle car," an automobile in which the rear axle is a transmission in a mechanical sense—that is, it is not an axle in the proper sense of the word, but a transmission in the life of every car, and it is a very expensive one as well as a very difficult one to make and which is very difficult to adjust.

THE FORD 6-CYLINDER TOURING CAR

"MODEL K" 6 cylinders 4 1/4 x 4 1/4 40 H. P. Speed 50 miles. 114 Wheel Base. BOTH Storage Battery and Magneto Ignition. Mechanical oilers. Wheels 34 inches. Tires 4 inches. Weight 2,400. Price $2,500

The Silence of an Electric, the Flexibility of a Steam Engine and More Reserve Power Than Any Car of Its Weight in the World

All Engineers acknowledge, and have always done so, that the finality of gas engine design must be realized in the six-cylinder motor

You do not know the POSSIBILITIES of an Automobile until you RIDE in the Six-Cylinder Ford

This Is a Broad Statement, But Allows Us an Opportunity to Demonstrate That It Is a Fact WE GUARANTEE DELIVERIES IN TEN DAYS POSITIVELY. Don't Forget to Call and See This Car and Arrange for a Demonstration.

New England Branch C. E. FAY, Manager FORD MOTOR CO. 147-153 Columbus Avenue Phone Tremont 888

